November Battles Set

Red Vessel Smashed By Allied Fire

Large Quantities Of Ammunition, Guns Seized In Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. ships and planes aided by the South Vietnamese air force and navy drove a gun-running coastal freighter ashore at the southern tip of South Viet Nam Tuesday night and broke it in two.

American and Vietnamese frogmen seized large quantities of weapons and ammunition, some with Soviet markings, after the 100-ton freighter broke up on the Ca Mau Peninsula 200 miles southwest of Saigon.

The freighter's port of origin was not immediately determined.

Military officials said it was the most important interception of seaborne arms since a mysterious 135-foot vessel was sunk on the central coast Feb. 16, 1965. A huge cache of arms was recovered then.

In the ground war, American paratroopers of the 101st Airborne clashed with a battalion of North Vietnamese regular army troops 95 miles northeast of Saigon, the U.S. Command said today.

An official spokesman said the paratroopers killed 22 of the estimated 300 Communists and captured four. Light U.S. casualties were reported.

Increased air activity Tuesday was reported both north and south of the 17th Parallel dividing Viet Nam, and two U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs were shot down over North Viet Nam.

One pilot was rescued by a helicopter 105 miles northwest of Hanoi. It was the deepest rescue penetration of North Viet Nam in the war. The other pilot was shot down while attacking a bridge 17 miles south of Dong Hoi, apparently was unable to eject and was listed as missing in action.

This brought the total American planes reported lost over North Viet Nam to 235.

Ex-Congressman

Love Wins Battle For U.S. Senate On GOP Ticket

CHARLESTON (AP) — Francis J. Love, an ex-congressman last elected to office 20 years ago, won a two-man race for the Republican U.S. Senate nomination in the West Virginia primary Tuesday.

Love, a 65-year-old Wheeling lawyer, beat ex-Democrat Harold G. Cutright of Ivanhoe to earn the spot opposite Sen. Jennings Randolph on the November general election ballot. Randolph ran unopposed for Democratic renomination.

With the vote tallied from 98 per cent of the state's 2,613 precincts, Love led Cutright 60,474 to 35,848.

CURRIGHT, a retired industrial executive, switched parties after running last in a four-man race for the Democratic nomination for governor two years ago.

In the only other statewide contests, Secretary of State Robert D. Bailey of Pineville, Democrat, and John S. Callebs of Huntington, Republican, were nominated for a two-year unexpired term in the office Bailey now holds by appointment. Each defeated one primary opponent.

The state's five U.S. House of Representatives incumbents — four Democrats and one Republican — were renominated. Only three, all Democrats, faced primary opposition.

In his first primary contest in a decade, Rep. Harley O. Staggers of Keyser won renomination for a 10th term in the House, where he heads the Commerce Committee.

Staggers defeated state legislator D. P. Given of Webster Springs 29,497 to 5,195 on the basis of returns from 498 of the 2nd District's 519 precincts. Given ran simultaneously for renomination for his legislative seat in the House of Delegates, but was an apparent loser there, too.

Rep. Ken Hechler of Huntington far outdistanced two opponents in the 4th District. Rep. James Kee overwhelmed Rudolph D. Jennings, by a margin of more than 3 to 1 in a 5th District contest between two Bluefield residents.

The battlelines have been drawn for the Nov. 8 general election as the result of Tuesday's primary balloting in Hancock County.

Two Weirton men — Rudy Kusic, Republican, and Edward Nogay, Democrat — were nominated for a commissioner's post on the County Court.

John D. Herron of New Cumberland and Ernest John of Chester received the Republican nomination to the West Virginia House of Delegates and Miss Callie Tsapis of Weirton and George G. Griffith of Weirton, an incumbent, the Democratic nominations.

Kusic won out in a three-way race with C. Dayton King of Weirton and Andrew J. Kondik of Weirton for nomination as the Butler District member of the court. The vote was:

Kusic	1,323
King	783
Kondik	480

Nogay placed first in the four-way Democratic contest with Nelson Ross, George D. Tokash and John E. Plesich, all of Weirton. The vote was:

Nogay	3,439
Ross	1,711
Tokash	1,577
Plesich	561

Herron and John defeated a third candidate for the House of Delegates, John Lincoln Owen of Chester. The vote was:

Herron	1,532
John	1,465
Owen	915

The Democratic field for House of Delegates nominations included Miss Tsapis, Griffith, Ronald E. Wilson, Frank A. Latkiewicz Sr. and Vito H. Catenaro, all of Weirton, and Julian C. Wilson of New Cumberland. The vote was:

Tsapis	3,999
Griffith	2,399
R. Wilson	2,151
J. Wilson	1,556
Latkiewicz	1,431

Ky Repeats Prediction Of Keeping Post

Says He, Military Regime To Stay In Power For Year

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nugyen Cao Ky today repeated his prediction that he and his military government will remain in power at least another year.

Ky again told newsmen he thinks it will take a year or more to get an elected civilian government for South Viet Nam. He said he intends to stay in power until then.

The Buddhist hierarchy called off its street agitation against the junta four weeks ago after the government pledged elections for a civilian government in three to five months.

The assumption at that time was that Ky and the rest of the 10-man military junta would retire from the government by fall and concentrate on waging the war against the Communists.

Ky revised the timetable Saturday by telling newsmen that the fall vote would be for a Constituent Assembly to draft a constitution. He said it would take at least a year to elect a National Assembly that could name a civilian government and that he intended to stay in power until after the second election.

Chief Threat From Reds

Europe Termed Major War Area

PARIS (AP) — "Despite the current preoccupation with Viet Nam, Europe remains the arena of the greatest possible confrontation with the Communists," says Vice Adm. Frederick L. Ashworth the new commander of the U.S. 6th Fleet.

"Europe is the area where the West and the Communist bloc could clash on a big scale, and this is what we hope to prevent," Ashworth said in an interview before leaving Paris to take over his new command today at Villefranche-sur-Mer, on the French Riviera.

The lanky salt-water airman who was aboard the B29 which dropped the atomic bomb on Nagasaki said he believes in the principle that "the primary purpose of atomic weapons is to prevent war, not to wage it."

He regards the awesome strike force of the 6th Fleet — with its Polaris submarines carrying nuclear-tipped missiles and its planes capable of carrying atomic bombs — to be an effective deterrent to any Soviet thrust against Western Europe.

Ashworth noted that the deterrent power of the West has brought peace and stability to Europe for 20 years, allowing it to reach an unprecedented level of prosperity.

The admiral said French withdrawal from the North Atlantic alliance's military commands would have virtually no effect on the operation of the 6th Fleet, which patrols the Mediterranean.

"In peacetime we are under American operational control," he said, "and we are not tied to any shore installation. We have been and remain an autonomous mobile force.

"We have had excellent working arrangements with the French navy in the past, and I hope these will continue. We have had visiting privileges in various French ports, and we have had occasional joint maneuvers. I assume and hope that all this will continue."

The 6th Fleet includes two carriers, two missile-armed cruisers, about 20 destroyers, eight submarines and a force of some 25,000 men. Its manpower includes a battalion of Marines available for duty anywhere along the shores of the Mediterranean in case of trouble.

Fallout Seen Strong From China Bomb

Described As 33 Times Greater Than Other 2 Explosions

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese scientists reported today that radio-active fallout from Red China's latest atomic blast was as much as 33 times stronger than that from Peking's previous two tests.

The findings bore out reports from Washington that preliminary data indicated China's third nuclear blast was its largest so far.

China's first two tests in October 1964 and May 1965 were equivalent to about 20,000 tons of TNT — the size of the first U.S. atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima in 1945.

The highest readings from the third test came from Niigata University in Niigata, on the Japanese seacoast opposite the Chinese mainland.

Prof. Takao Kosaka estimated the radioactivity in particles of dust was a little more than 33 times as intense as that in China's second nuclear test.

He reported dust particles contained a maximum of 1.5 million tiny units of radioactivity, compared with a maximum of 45,000 in China's second test.

Kosaka said such amount of radioactivity might be harmful to people and might seriously contaminate vegetables.

Takao said an electric dust collector and other instruments had been installed on the roof of a university building to catch debris from the bomb.

Victory For Johnson

House Approves Rent Subsidies

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's controversial rent subsidy program has survived another harrowing test in Congress.

With some personal pressure from several top administration aides, the House voted 192 to 188 Tuesday to include $22 million to finance the program next year in an otherwise noncontroversial $14 billion omnibus appropriation bill.

The measure goes to the Senate, where an earlier emergency measure allocating $12.1 million for the program for the rest of this fiscal year was approved 46 to 45. The House had passed the emergency measure earlier, 198 to 190.

The rent program was created by Congress last year at Johnson's behest. During its projected 40-year life, $6 billion could be paid to nonprofit or cooperative groups which build housing for low-income families. The payments normally would represent the difference between 25 per cent of the tenant's income and the rental cost.

Six Republicans joined 186 House Democrats in support of the amendment to finance the program next year despite the House Appropriations Committee's refusal to do so. Voting to chop off the program were 69 Democrats and 119 Republicans.

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien and Secretary Robert C. Weaver of the Department of Housing and Urban Development spent several hours at the Capitol and on congressional telephones lining up reluctant supporters.

Nurse Knifed Outside Home Near Lisbon

A 36 year-old Lisbon area nurse was in Salem City Hospital today with stab wounds suffered at her home late Tuesday night and was to be questitned today by Columbiana County Sheriff Russell VanFossan concerning the attack.

Miss Esther Chamberlain of Darner Rd., a nurse at the Salem hospital, was in "fair" condition.

The sheriff said Miss Rose Piper, 41, who resides with Miss Chamberlain, said she returned to the home east of Lisbon off Route 154 and found the other woman lying on the floor in the kitchen bleeding from the wounds. Miss Piper is also a nurse at the hospital.

Deputies said they were told by Miss Chamberlain she had gone out to a shed where her dogs are kept and someone attacked her with a sharp weapon.

The sheriff said the woman had a number of wounds on the back and one of the lower stomach.

The attack apparently took place about 11:30.

300 Take Part In Meeting Of Catholic Women Here

More than 300 attended the 21st annual convention of the Council of Catholic Women of the Youngstown Diocese Tuesday at St. Aloysius Catholic School.

The Columbiana County Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women was the host group.

Counties represented in addition to Columbiana were Trumbull, Stark, Mahoning, Portage and Ashtabula.

The day began with the group attending Mass at the church, with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Clarence Halter of Warren, Diocesan moderator, as the celebrant, assisted by the Rt. Rev. Joseph Krispinsky of Warren and Fr. William Lawler, host pastor.

Breakfast was held in the school after the Mass, followed by registration and a business meeting.

The theme was "Peace Through Unity" developed through displays arranged by committee chairmen in areas of personal development, family education, community affairs, world responsibilities and organizations.

From 1 to 3 p. m., a panel discussion pertaining to the theme was led by the Rt. Rev. Joseph E. Koch of Youngstown. Other panel members were the Rev. John R. Sargent and Mrs. Marcus Kilch of Youngstown, national president of Catholic women. Fr. Charles Simpson of Kent served as moderator for the panel.

Tea was served and then the women viewed the workshop exhibits, with categories including social action, rural life, traffic safety, immigration and Americanization.

Pittsburgher Kills His Son, Wife And Self

PITTSBURGH — Richard S. McKee, 41, a Pittsburgh stock broker, shot and killed his wife and son, 9, while they slept in their O'Hara Township home early Tuesday and then turned the gun on himself. He died Tuesday night in Fittsburgh Hospital.

County homicide detectives said only McKee could have told the reason for the tragedy, described by O'Hara Police Chief James Kielty as "the worst I have seen in 20 years."

Kielty said McKee apparently fired two shots into the head of his son, Eric, as the boy was sleeping in his room on the second floor.

McKee apparently next went into the master bedroom and fired a single shot into the head of his 40-year-old wife, Margaret. McKee then shot himself as he stood next to his wife's bed, police theorized.

Operation Set On New Light

Added Signal Seen As Pedestrian Aid

A new walk light will go into operation Thursday morning to aid pedestrians at 5th and Market Sts., probably the busiest intersection in downtown East Liverpool, Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said today.

Once in each cycle of the traffic light, the signal will allow pedestrians 22 seconds in which to cross the intersection. It will operate on the "scatter light" principle, halting auto traffic in all four directions. Pedestrians will be free to cross the intersection conventionally — for instance from the north side to the south side — or in a random pattern diagonally.

The "scatter light" takes its name from the fact pedestrians are free to "scatter" across the intersection in any direction while all traffic is halted.

The walk light is a fourth bank of signals attached to the bottom of the conventional traffic light. It will operate Mon-

Speaks At Princeton U.

Our Power Is Tempered By Restraint, LBJ Says

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — President Johnson said today "our great power is tempered by great restraint" in Southeast Asia and elsewhere.

"What nation has announced such limited objectives or such willingness to remove its military presence once those objectives are achieved?" Johnson asked in a speech prepared for delivery at Princeton University.

"What nation has spent the lives of its sons and vast sums of its fortune to provide the people of a small striving nation the chance to elect a course we might not ourselves choose?"

Johnson came to Princeton to speak at dedication ceremonies at a new hall at the Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs.

His speech put heavy emphasis on the role of scholars in government.

Johnson said he sees the nation as conscious of lessons recently learned:

"—That security and aggression, as well as peace and war, must be the concerns of her foreign policy;

"—That a great power influences the world just as surely when it withdraws its strength as when it exercises it;

"—That aggression must be deterred where possible and met early when undertaken;

"—That the application of military force when it becomes

Chester Youth Hurt As Auto Strikes 'Bike'

A 17-year-old Chester youth was seriously hurt Tuesday night when his 1965 motorbike was struck by an auto on West Virginia Route 2 north of New Cumberland near the Middle Run road.

Harry W. Butler, son of Robert C. Butler of Route 30, was heading south on the cycle when the 1964 model car driven by Roy E. Hart, 40, of Chester R. D. 1 pulled onto the highway from a parked position, crossing over the centerline, according to the Hancock County sheriff's department report.

Butler, a sophomore at Oak Glen High School, was taken by ambulance to City Hospital, where it was determined that he had fractures of the left arm and both legs and a possible concussion. He later was transferred to Rochester General Hospital.

Hart was cited by deputies for driving left of center.

The accident was timed at 7:24.

Recount Eyed For Sowards

Lew Sowards of near Lisbon, defeated by 38 votes by Robert Owen of East Liverpool in a race for the Democratic nomination for county commissioner May 3, said today he and his campaign advisers and workers have been discussing the possibility of seeking a recount, but no decision has been reached.

The County Election Board's official canvass of the returns, completed late Saturday afternoon, credited Sowards with 1,919 to Owen's 1,957. In the unofficial tabulation completed on election night, Owen was shown to be the winner by a 32-vote margin. Owen's vote remained unchanged in the official count, but Sowards' declinde by six.

Sowards said if he and his advisers decide upon a recount, the application will be filed well within the deadline set by state law. The law says the recount request must be entered within five days after certification of the official count.

Since the official count was certified Monday to Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Saturday will be the deadline for seeking a recount of primary returns.

The application in any countywide race may seek a new tabulation in all 167 precincts or specify particular polling places in which he wants a double check.The law also allows the other candidate to file for a "protective" recount, if he wishes, to specify precincts not listed by the original applicant.

Law requires a bond of $10 per precinct be posted in cash with a recount application. For a new countywide tabulation, the deposit would be $1,670.

Man Assessed $7.50 For Old Dinner Check

Jack Morrell of Wellsville paid $7.50 in costs Tuesday in Municipal Court in a case growing out of a dinner check which he allegedly failed to pay on Feb. 26 in the New York Restaurant.

Morrell was arraigned before Judge Samuel Chertoff on an affidavit signed by Charlotte Wilkinson, a waitress. She testified today that the defendant and some companions walked out of the restaurant without settling the check, although she pursued them on the sidewalk.

Learning that the restaurant check had been paid later by another defendant arrested as a result of the same complaint, the judge assessed the costs on Morrell. He was charged specifically with obtaining a meal "by false pretenses with intent to defraud."

Flowers Urges Curb On East End Canines

Dog Warden Harold E. Flowers today asked East End residents to comply with state laws that require their dogs to be confined, asserting he has received complaints on roving canines particularly from the St. George St. and Ohio Ave. areas.

Dogs which are not confined or tied are liable to be picked up and impounded in a "clean-up" of the area which he contemplates, Flowers said.

The warden said he has received complaints that roving dogs are damaging lawns and gardens and upsetting garbage cans. An East End youngster was attacked by three dogs a few days ago while riding a bicycle, he added.

Pointing At The Wrong Culprit

Washington politicians are making a big stir this year about automobile safety.

They contend automobile manufacturers have been lax in building safety features into their products.

The escalating highway toll, they claim, could be reduced sharply if steering wheels were padded, windshields would fall out if they came into contact with hard human skulls and scores of other weird innovations were installed to create a monstrosity of a vehicle that nobody would buy, much less drive.

The plain fact is that auto design and safety actually are a minor part of the accident problem.

Auto drivers are the major culprits in highway accidents. Excessively high- and low-speed drivers play a major role. Liquor plus speed accounts for a large share of fatal accidents.

Age is another big factor. Teen-agers have a sensational accident record. Old people with slow reactions and bad eyesight offer another accident problem.

Failure to enforce traffic laws adequately is important.

Men in politics blaming the auto industry for faults in cars find it easier to make manufacturers' the whipping boys than to take action that would affect millions of drivers who vote.

Auto makers are first to admit that among the millions of tons of material produced each year there is likely to be a small fraction of faulty equipment.

When it is spotted, they are prompt to call in the faulty cars and correct the defect. And scarcely any accidents are traceable to the imperfections.

A Timely Tip

An attempted burglary has been thwarted here because two men met their responsibility as good citizens and gave police the "tip" which resulted in the apprehension of a suspect.

This is another example of what can be accomplished when an alert citizenry cooperates with law enforcement agencies.

In too many cases too many are reluctant to act when action could mean the difference between a crime being committed or a crime being nipped in the bud. Some fear the stigma of "squealer" or "informer" if they call the police. Nothing could be more ridiculous.

As pointed out earlier, instead it's a case of a person meeting his or her responsibility to the community. The more "tips" at the right time the less crime.

Mao Is Back On Exhibit

Mao Tze-tung showed up for an Albanian delegation in Peking this week.

We admit our imagination is tickled by an idea that has gained some currency recently—that when key leaders like Mao disappear for long periods, then return to the scene, something fishy is happening.

History is full of incidents of kings and queens who have lost their bearings and been kept out of sight until they returned to a semblance of rationality.

There would be nothing unique about a physical breakdown that would necessitate keeping a key public figure out of sight until the conspicuous evidence of a malady had been concealed. After all, Grover Cleveland was kept out of sight while recovering from radical surgery of the mouth, Woodrow Wilson was hidden from view during a stroke and Franklin D. Roosevelt was visibly deteriorating even while his health reportedly was giving no concern to anyone except the political manipulators who needed him for a fourth-term candidacy in 1948.

The Russians have exploited symbolic leadership to the limit with their glass-lidded coffin containing what purports to be Lenin. The British have been somewhat subtler in their display of royal effigies in Westminster Abbey. The French still flock by thousands to gaze down at the tomb of Napoleon. There is nothing new about the idea of the leadership effigy.

Whether Mao is or isn't the real thing, whether he now is shadow instead of substance, is indeterminate. But even the uncertainty is part of the game. Is Charles de Gaulle for real? Franco? It's hard to be sure.

The Bunch At Berkeley

The problems of the University of California at Berkeley are conveniently remote. They can be viewed with complete objectivity, thanks to their distance.

In the latest dustup, which has been started by a committee of the California State Senate — a California-type un-American Activities Committee — it is made to appear that the issue is Clark Kerr, president of the university. The reasoning seems to be that if President Kerr had been doing his job well there wouldn't be on the campus any of the things giving the critics fits and fantods.

It must be admitted that the Berkeley bunch does seem to be swinging a little more than kids at other schools, though this impression could be caused by two things: 1. There are more of them; 2. They have been getting more publicity.

But to get back to President Kerr, if getting rid of him is all that's needed to bring the Berkeley bunch into line, why don't they do what they do in baseball when a manager is on the spot? Pay him for the duration of his contract, with the assurance he will be picked up in due time by some other educational outfit whose peerless leader's welcome has been worn out by circumstances wholly beyond his control?

Isn't there a university looking right now for a Pied Piper president who will guarantee to free it from kooks, dopes, goofs, showoffs, popoffs, exhibitionists, boozers, chasers and assorted beatniks?

It Wouldn't Be Too Hard

No one could be sure what sent stock market values into a seizure of financial shrugs at the close of last week.

As usually is the case when this happens, the analysts and experts looked at one another and shrugged. Could it have been that 24-hour scare about a General Motors cutback in production? Could it have been something someone said had come over the tickers? Was it news from Southeast Asia?

Only one thing could be pinned down for certain, and it didn't need any pinning down. It wouldn't be too hard to talk this country into an attack of speculative gulm.

The Johnson administration doesn't seem to be having much success with what has come to be known as "jawbone price control," but there might be some spectacular results of "jawbone speculative control."

Speculation is a matter of mood. People are hopeful about the future of the share they can afford in the capitalistic system's future when they are sanguine about the present.

Their mood can be changed overnight by influences they would have trouble describing to anyone else. They used to say in the '30s after the stock market bubble burst that it all began when someone who had lent a speculator a dollar years before began to brood about his money and asked the borrower to return the money — one dollar.

By the time everybody else who had been riding the boom on borrowed money asked for his dollar, the bubble had burst.

It wouldn't be that easy another time. Bubble control has been instituted in the meantime. But anything that changed the national mood materially could do the trick.

Inflation could give way to deflation overnight. If that happened, the country again would be treated to "jawbone" technique — the attempt to talk things up, which is a lot harder than talking them down.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

The critical test of composure while undergoing hospital humiliation is sitting in a busy, bright corridor in one of those absurd little gowns that only comes to here, opens up the back and theoretically is held together with two apron strings.

I am flattered when people give me books to read that will improve my mind. It gives me hope. Only trouble is, I do not have time to improve my mind because it works so inefficiently I waste all my time trying to conceal its defects. It is a vicious circle.

Twice in my life as a householder I have had to mow grass while snow lay on the ground. This is one reason I snort when people try to defend the climate in this part of the country. It isn't as bad as it is in Scotland, but it's close.

I liked what Mickey Mantle, Bobby Richardson, Whitey Ford and the other old-time Yankees said about Johnny Keane—that it wasn't his fault they had fallen apart last year and couldn't get started this year. That's being a major leaguer.

Richard M. Nixon is advising Republicans not to bid for segregationist votes in the Deep South, lest they blow their last slim chance of winning Negro votes in the North. Nixon is like the late Bernard Baruch, whose good advice always was spurned by its recipients.

I am now at work on the latest commencement address I never will deliver. It starts out strong: "Young men, do not go forth. Stay right where you are and study hard, or you, too, may be mucking around in the rice paddies of beautiful Viet Nam, waiting for a helicopter to rescue you."

Still Growing

Sir Francis Drake strode ashore near what is now San Francisco in 1579 and left a name for mapmakers to ponder: Nova Albion or New England.

Through the centuries, settlers flocking to that richly endowed land have preferred another name — one bestowed by Spanish adventurers who thought they'd found the golden realm of mythical Queen Calafia.

California remains a lure for 400,000 newcomers a year and is growing so fast that almost the only thing constant there is its vast size—158,693 square miles. The state spans 840 miles from north to south.

Though California is only the third state in area, in terms of people it is the biggest, with 19,040,000 population. This figure may triple by the end of the century.

Two-thirds of all Californians make their home in what is regarded as southern California. Los Angeles County, embracing 4,060 densely-inhabited square miles, is the nation's most populous urban area after New York City.

Can't Blame This One On Detroit

Electric Signs Flash Strike

By Victor Riesel

You can be sure if it's Westinghouse and General Electric on one hand and a coalition of eight unions lead by such men as Walter Reuther, George Meany and young Paul Jennings on the other, and both sides are insulting each other — there's an Armageddon in our future.

Victor Riesel

Strong forces are maneuvering for fixed positions. There could be a strike this fall. And no minor matter this.

The labor team leads 180,000 skilled employes in scores of plants. This is not just electric bulb and vacuum cleaner stuff.

It could affect at least 100 other unions with which GE and Westinghouse deal. It could reach to the moon by affecting sections of the intricate Apollo moon project feeder systems.

Meanwhile, back here on earth, a bitter showdown over the myriad contracts which expire on Oct. 2 could mean disruption of critical plants such as the GE installation at Lynn, Mass. There they make small jet engines for helicopters now scheduled for Viet Nam.

THERE ARE OTHER PLANTS such as the big jet production center on the outskirts of Cincinnati which would be paralyzed—and mills turning out huge generators, desalinating equipment and electronic systems too classified to discuss.

Talk to both sides and they respond with statements that they are not "strike oriented."

The labor team, not yet publicized but soon to hit the headlines as "The Committee on Collective Bargaining," is running 17 major strategy meetings in 11 states in coming weeks.

GE's intra-plant, employe-relations information letter alerts company supervisors for a possible strike and briefs them on procedures for obtaining police protection.

The "coordinated" team of unionists, some of whose leaders have struck everything from the moonport to phantom jet, bullet, ball powder and brass shell plants, charges that GE refuses to bargain.

A GE VICE PRESIDENT, Virgil Day, retorts bluntly that "the torpedoing of the subcommittee proposal on one pretext or another, plus the raising of unrealistic goals which are based on factors not relevant to our situation, seems to suggest that the eight-union coalition is intent on crisis bargaining to force a strike in the hope of getting the settlement dictated in Washington."

Another GE official, Phil Moore, manager, Employe Relations Service of the multi-billion dollar corporation, charges that the "very magnitude of" the unions' demands suggests "that the coalition group has set a collision course toward a strike crisis to force federal intervention. . . ."

All this should not give the impression that there has been any bargaining on the union demands. The bargaining has pivoted on who is going to do the bargaining. This is most significant.

Never before, that I can recollect, have so many influential national labor leaders banded together, set up a national headquarters and moved against a major corporation in such coordinated fashion. There are small unions in the eight-union cordial entente—such as the Flint Glass Workers.

THEIR ACTION COMMITTEE met in their headquarters at 1126 16th St., NW in Washington, D.C. last Friday morning. The big fellows said they look out for the little ones.

This skull session came just 48 hours after the coalition had met with some GE executives in the bargaining suites in this city. The meeting did not last long. The GE bargainers said courteously, but with steeled firmness, they would negotiate with some of the unions individually, but not as a group. Then the company men departed.

Before they left they said they would never deal with the coalition as a team. Later a spokesman for the labor alliance told this columnist that the team will stay intact forever.

"We started in October. It is working well. Reuther and Meany meant it when they pledged support. We just won't abandon it. It won't fall apart. You can give heavy odds on that."

It does appear that both sides will hold the line right through the monsoon season. The deadline is Oct. 2.

Deadlines have a fatiguing habit of rolling around real fast.

An Illusion

By David Lawrence

Conformity By Coercion Hit

Friction due to race problems is steadily increasing rather than diminishing. It can bring tragic consequences in American life. Most regrettable is the fact that, because abuses have occurred in the past and injustices are still being inflicted on a minority group, a basic truth is being ignored. It's that all Negroes are by no means alike in personality or intelligence just as all whites are not equally acceptable to each other as friends, as fellow employes or as neighbors.

David Lawrence

Conformity by coercion has nevertheless been adopted as the formula that is supposed to bring about equality and to get the most votes for the politician. This is an illusion. Discontent eventually can grow big enough to sweep aside the most desirable of reforms. This happens particularly when the methods of enforcement chosen are unwise.

Bitterness over racial problems is being intensified today. Both federal and state authorities are inclined toward measures by which pupils would be transported by buses from one public school district to another contrary to the wishes of their parents.

Legislation is being proposed which, if enacted, would compel citizens to sell or rent private homes to anybody who offers to meet the sale or rental price. Public dissatisfaction with this type of project can build up to nationwide proportions.

WILL THE SPONSORS of such radical changes in community life see the handwriting on the wall early enough to adjust themselves to a course which is more likely to attain their rightful objectives? Here are some of the basic factors involved and suggested lines of action:

1. Extremists must be repudiated by people of the same race or religion or color. Many so-called leaders are in the habit of making blanket indictments and trying to force by law unnatural changes in human behavior without waiting for a better understanding by the public itself of the underlying issues.

Today anybody who disputes the constitutionality of a proposal or its practicality in achieving a desirable objective in race relations is promptly labelled a "racist." This serves only to breed more and more dissension in a community.

2. The word "integration" is widely misunderstood. It implies to many persons a compulsory and not a voluntary association in a community. It seems to ignore the rule that each individual should be judged on his or her manners, capacity to do a job and a readiness to deal fairly with one's fellow citizens.

THE AGE-OLD ETHIC that friendship is selective — as are other private relationships in a community — cannot be destroyed by law.

3. "Discrimination" means barring an individual from a job or a school or a hotel or a restaurant or a house in any neighborhood solely because of race or color or religion. Such prejudice in human relations is harmful and deplorable but progress toward eliminating or reducing it will never be made by assuming that no other factors may ever enter into an individual's mind in selecting his friends or employes or tenants.

Anybody who has mingled with Negroes probably knows many who are better individuals and more desirable as friends than some whites, particularly those who have grown up with ineradicable prejudices, if not bitterness, toward their fellow human beings.

There are plenty of Negroes who know whites whom they call true friends but there are some whites who are unpopular with everybody in a community.

A HUMORIST RECENTLY QUIPPED that he couldn't wait for "integration" to be achieved so that he could feel free thereafter to apply his favorite epithets of scorn to certain whites and Negroes alike without being accused of "discrimination."

There are many Negroes today who do not agree with the irresponsible and extreme tactics of some of their leaders but are reluctant to say so. The whole problem is becoming entangled in legal chicanery based on politics. This is bound to hurt the cause of increasing association between whites and Negroes in all walks of life.

Some day the idea must be gotten across that the choice of associates should be based not on color but on what is imbedded in the mind and conscience of a fellow human being.

An individual should be willing to respect the private and public rights of others. In return, he can insist that his own rights be similarly respected.

Work Continues On Renovation

LISBON—Arrangements have been completed for cleaning and painting the Williamsport Church in Beaver Creek State Park which will be dedicated May 29 at 2 p.m.

The Columbiana County Forests and Parks Council said the exterior of the church will be painted Saturday, if weather permits.

Both men and women volunteers are needed for the painting and for cleaning the interior of the structure just off Route 7, a mile north of Beaver Local Schools.

Another cleanup day is set for May 28 when, if time permits, cleaning of the Gaston's Mill in the park will be included.

The church has been acquired by the Council for a summertime undenominational church for park campers and visitors.

The restoration work is to be completed, except for roofing, by the time of the dedication services.

Contributions are being received for the restoration work, Floyd Lower, secretary-treasurer, said.

Supt. Lowell Myers instructed John Pangle, band director, to drop all seniors from the band and from all other musical organizations in any way connected with the school following graduation. All new freshmen are to participate in all of the band's summer activities.

Pangle asked permission for the band to participate in the following events: June 4, Newell parade; June 9, East Palestine parade; June 10, Pleasant Heights parade; June 11, Glenmoor parade; June 16, Wellsville playground parade; June 24, Wellsville Firemen's parade; July 4, Midland parade; July 22, Highlandtown county fair; Sept. 5, Wellsville Labor Day parade.

East End Church Hit By Intruders

Police today are continuing an investigation of vandalism reported Tuesday at 4 p. m. at St. Ann's Catholic Church on Pennsylvania Ave., Eat End.

Nothing appeared to be missing, although the intruders consumed some soft drinks in the downstairs kitchen, police were told by Herbert Purton, custodian. Purton said he discovered the vandalism when he went to the church to work about 3:45 p. m. There was no sign of forcible entry, officers said.

A metal cabinet was forced open with a large butcher knife taken from a drawer. Metal boxes were found on the floor, but it was not known if they had contained any money. Fr. Thomas Beldue, the pastor, is out of town, officers explained.

Groups Plan Participation In Festival

Twenty-two singers, instrumentalists and dancers from the Midland St. George Serbian Orthodox congregation will participate in the 10th Folk Festival Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at Syria Mosque in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Alex Vranes is accepting bus reservations today only.

There will be 25 performing groups and 31 nationality booths at the festival, which begins Thursday.

A typical Serbian wedding will be portrayed Sunday night by members of the Serbian Singing Federation, District No. 1. Fr. Milorad Dobrota of the St. George congregation is choral director of the group.

Don Knezevich is director of the orchestra, Sylvester Vranes is in charge of advertising and Alex Vranes in charge of ticket sales.

A special recipe booklet has been planned for the festival. Doors of the Mosque will open to "Restaurant Row" and the display areas each day at 5 p.m.

"Unity in Diversity" is the theme of the festival, which will open each performance night with a film depicting the formation of America and focusing briefly on each of the nationalities in the 1966 program.

The festival is sponsored annually by the Robert Morris Junior College of Pittsburgh.

The Junior choir of the St. George congregation will rehearse in the lyceum at 7 p.m. Thursday.

The regular monthly congregational meeting scheduled for Thursday has been postponed until May 19, Fr. Dobrota announced.

Fr. Dobrota attended the annual convention of the Serbian Orthodox Clergy Brotherhood in Cleveland Tuesday and Wednesday.

Church Unit Get Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $315,000 loan to five church groups in Montpelier, Ohio, to finance construction of a housing project for the elderly has been approved by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Hunt Continues For Gila Monster In Boston Area

BOSTON (AP) — The search goes on in the heavily populated Roxbury residential section for an 18-inch lizard whose poisonous bite is believed capable of killing a child.

The animal, called a gila (pronounced hee' luh) monster, disappeared from a neighborhood pet store Saturday and may be hiding until the weather gets warmer.

Anthony Scott, part owner of the shop and an expert in handling the reptile, said "heat stimulates his whole system so that he's aggressive and his poison flows more freely.

"But even though he's more sluggish in the cold, he still could turn rapidly on someone."

Dr. John C. Kirkpatrick of Boston City Hospital's emergency department, said the hospital has a serum that is an antidote to the venom.

Scott said the lizard can get a "good grip" with its strong jaws. He said a bite could make anyone severely ill and could kill a child aged 10 or less "if the animal got a good, long hold on him."

only Republican in the state's Washington delegation, and Rep. John M. Slack Jr. of Charleston in the 3rd, ran without primary opposition.

In the only GOP congressional contest, Buckhannon department store owner George L. Strader beat Albert A. Minnich of Martinsburg in the 2nd District. Strader will oppose Stagers in November.

Other unopposed congressional candidates were Sutton lawyer William M. Kidd for the 1st District Democratic spot opposite Moore in November and Republicans Mal Guthrie of Charleston in the 3rd, Harry D. Humpreys of Huntington in the 4th and Elizabeth Ann Bowen of Bluefield in the 5th. Miss Bowen, who is 25, worked in 1964 as secretary to Dan Burch, then Republican national chairman.

Not quite one - third of West Virginia's 658,444 registered Democrats and roughly 28 per cent of the 352,195 Republicans voted in the light balloting. This was an approximately average off - year primary turnout.

Bailey's margin over Mrs. June E. Hammonds, Charleston accountant, in the Democratic secretary of state contest was 160,963 to 34,806 with 98 per cent of the precincts reported. Gov. Hulett C. Smith appointed Bailey to the post after the death last year of Joe F. Burdett.

Callebs, 32-year-old assistant professor of social studies at Marshall University, defeated Elizabeth attorney Louis Reed for the GOP nomination.

The nearly complete totals were 49,471 for Callebs and 41,166 for Reed, the unsuccessful Republican nominee against Burdett two years ago.

SOME observers had expected Huntington businessman Woodrow G. Jefferson to give Hechler stiffer opposition than turned out to be the case in the 4th District Democratic congressional contest.

Hechler ran away with it in winning renomination for a fifth term. Returns from 566 of 573 precincts gave Hechler 36,889 and Jefferson 13,695. Parkersburg lawyer William L. Jacobs was a poor third with 2,495.

Strader's margin over Minnich in the 2nd District GOP contest was 11,362 to 7,157 with returns in from 498 of 519 polling places.

Senate nominee Love was elected to the 86th Congress from the 1st District in 1946, defeating the late Matthew M. Neely, then the Demcoratic incumbent. Love was renominated in 1948, but lost in November to the late Robert L. Ramsay.

Since then, Love's only ballot appearances have been successful campaigns for 1st District delegate to the last three Republican national conventions.

Pauley Among Those Upset In Balloting

CHARLESTON (AP) — Most of the familiar names in West Virginia's 100-member House of Delegates survived the primary balloting Tuesday, with several notable exceptions.

One of these was the apparent defeat of House Majority Leader Harry R. Pauley, who was seeking his 10th term as a Democratic delegate from McDowell County.

Unofficial returns showed Pauley, former House speaker from Iaeger, missed being renominated by 24 votes. A canvass of the votes could change the outcome, however.

Another apparent victim in the McDowell County primary was Dewey Mentz of Welch, who had served two terms in the House.

Other incumbents who failed to get renominated included 85-year-old Jake Neal, Clay County Democrat who was first elected to the House from Webster County in 1918; Webster County Del. D. P. (Sheriff) Given, who also lost the 2nd District House of Representatives nomination to Rep. Harley O. Staggers; Democrat Paul B. Dawson of Fairmont; Democrat Robert F. Stevens of Moundsville; Democrat Lucille W. Thornhill of Bluefield and Kanawha County Democrats Kenneth L. Coghill and Charles C. Dunaway.

Jasper Lone Casualty Among 7 Incumbents

CHARLESTON (AP)—Three-term Sen. William N. Jasper Jr. of Lewisburg was the only casualty among the seven State Senate incumbents — all Democrats — who had opposition in the West Virginia primary Tuesday.

Jasper ran last in a four-man contest for the Democratic nomination from the 11th Senatorial District. The apparent winner was Rainelle accountant Ralph D. Williams.

The present Senate has 27 Democrats and seven Republicans. Up for election this year are 13 of the Democrat-held seats and five of the GOP-held seats.

The House members trying to move over to the Senate won Democratic nominations in primary contests.

Del. John L. Seabright of Wheeling won in the 1st District, defeating Joseph V. Dusci and Merrill F. Arbogast of Beech Bottom.

Seabright's Republican opponent in November will be Sen. Chester R. Hubbard of Wheeling, who was unopposed Tuesday.

Del. Ray E. Sawyers of Hinton, brother of State Road Commissioner Burl A. Sawyers, won the 10th District nomination for the seat being vacated by Democratic Sen. O. Roy Parker of Union, who did not run again.

Sawyers defeated Richard P. Baylor of Hinton in the primary and will run in November against E. C. Cales of Hinton, who was unopposed for the GOP nomination.

Local Man Acquitted On Charge Of Fighting

Homer Boley of 208 Church Alley was found not guilty today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on a charge of disorderly conduct by fighting filed by police following an alleged disturbance outside a downtown tavern early Sunday morninl.

The charge was filed by Lt. William E. McDaniel, who testified he saw Boley fighting with George Clutter of 812 12th St., Wellsville, about 3:35 a.m. outside the Green Mill Tavern. Clutter was fined $25 and costs Monday when he pleaded guilty to a fighting charge.

Michigan Girl, Local Man Wed In Church Ceremony

MRS. EARL RICHARDS
Residing In Royal Oak.

Miss Frances Elizabeth Odgers of Royal Oak, Mich., was united in marriage with Earl Leroy Richards of Inkster, Mich., in a candlelight ceremony the evening of April 30 at 8 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church of Menominee, Mich.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roland M. Odgers of Menomiee. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Richards of West Center St.

The Rev. J. Robert Rank performed the double - ring rites before an altar banked with white gladioli, Fuji mums and snaperagons, palms and candelabra. Candles in hurricane standards marked the family pews and aisles. Mrs. Rank presented a half - hour recital of organ music. James Walter was soloist.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. Dimensional drifts of Alencon lace accented her floor-length gown of white silk organza, which was fashioned with a train. The bodice, sleeves and hemline were scalloped. She wore a mantilla of matching re-embroidered lace and carried a cascade arrangement of ivory roses.

She was attended by her twin sisters, Mrs. Wayne Collins as matron of honor and Miss Sara Sue Odgers as bridesmaid. They were attired in floor - length gowns of pale pink organza designed with Watteau back panels. Leaves and petals of the same shade of pink with short circular veils, formed their headdresses. They carried bouquets of red and pink roses.

William Richards served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Wayne Collins, brother-in-law of the bride, and Gene Mudrack.

The mother of the bride chose a pastel blue, ribbon knit, two-piece dress and the bridegroom's mother a dusty rose color ensemble. Matching accessories and orchid corsages complemented their costumes.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, which was decorated with palms, flowers and lighted tapers. The buffet table was centered with an arrangement of white flowers and rose color tapers in crystal holders. A four-tier cake, topped with tiny pink and white flowers, graced a side table. A punch bowl and silver coffee service completed the setting.

After a wedding trip to Acapulco, Mexico, the newlyweds will reside in Royal Oak.

The bride is a social worker for the Oakland County Juvenile Court at Pontiac, Mich., and her husband is an agent for Allegheny Airlines at Detroit.

White Offers Support To Sen. Reams

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP—The Democratic nominee for governor seems assured the November vote of defeated Republican nomination-seeker William L. White and any votes White can influence.

White came out with a prepared statement Tuesday offering his support to State Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. of Toledo in Reams' campaign against Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The Mount Vernon businessman, a onetime Democratic candidate for U. S. Senate nomination (1950), also urged election of Thomas E. Ferguson, Democratic candidate for state auditor, this fall.

He said a Democratic auditor would "have an opportunity to uncover and reveal to the public how James Rhodes has squandered the taxpayers' money."

White, who got 74,707 votes to Rhodes' 578,199 last week, said he considered his primary campaign a success in at least two respects:

"I exposed the way James Rhodes for 3½ years has been juggling the state payroll . . . which is costing the taxpayers upwards of more than $100,000 a year. I also exposed Ted Brown, secretary of state, who is part of the political machine, when he tried unlawfully to prevent me from running."

More than $2 billion was spent to build sewer and water facilities in the nation last year, a 10 per cent decrease from the $2.3 billion expended in 1964.

Dodgers Off And 'Running'; Bucs Nipped 2-1 In 15th

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Quick, sprinkle salt on their tails before the Los Angeles Dodgers steal the National League pennant again.

Walt Alston's go-go boys and their chief second story man, Maury Wills, ran all around the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night with their oldtime speed and their oldtime Sandy Koufax producing a 6-1 victory.

Wills stole three bases, Lou Johnson two and Ron Fairly one but Alston denied the six steals meant Los Angeles would be running regularly now.

"Sometimes you can run," Alston said, "and sometimes you can't. That's the way we're going to play it too. We're going to keep them guessing."

Koufax, whose lengthy holdout cut deeply into his spring training, pitched a strong six-hitter, striking out 10 and winning his fourth game in five decisions.

Elsewhere in the National League Tuesday, St. Louis blanked Chicago 8-0, Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Atlanta 8-2, 8-0, San Francisco edged Pittsburgh 2-1 in 15 innings and New York bested Houston 7-4.

Fairly's two-run double was the big hit for the Dodgers in the first inning as they gave Koufax a quick 3-0 lead against Chris Short. That was all Sandy needed.

Orlando Cepeda, acquired from the Giants just two days earlier, poled his first homer for St. Louis and three other Cardinal homers made it easy for Bob Gibson, who pitched a six-hitter. Gibson, Mike Shannon and Curt Flood hit the other homers.

Jim Maloney and Milt Pappas pitched the Reds to their sweep over the Braves, who managed just seven hits in the doubleheader.

Maloney, out two weeks with an arm ailment, gave Atlanta a pair of first inning runs in the opening game and then shut them out on one hit until the eighth when Don Nottebart came in to finish up. Pappas hurled a four-hitter in the nightcap.

Pete Rose had three hits and Tony Perez and Leo Cardenas drove in two runs apiece in the second game after the Reds pumped 14 hits including a two-run homer by Deron Johnson to win the opener.

San Francisco won its ninth straight by pushing across a run on a force out in the 15th inning against the Pirates. Two singles and an error loaded the bases and then Tom Haller scooted home with the winning run as Len Gabrielson beat the relay on an attempted double play bouncer.

Dick Selma worked 4 2-3 innings of sharp relief and the Mets pounded three homers to defeat Houston. Selma permitted just three singles, all of them in the ninth inning. Johnny Lewis, Ken Boyer and Jim Hickman homered for New York.

Valentine Has His Day

Tribe Drops Third Straight Game

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Valentines everywhere have their day in February, but Washington's Valentine has had two in May.

He certainly didn't have any in March.

This Valentine, named Fred, lashed four hits for the second straight game Tuesday night, sparking the Senators to a 4-1 victory over California.

Rapping eight hits in his last 10 times at bat, Valentine has raised his average 71 points, from .229 to .300. He battered Angel pitching for three singles and a homer Monday night, then came back Tuesday night with a single, two doubles and a triple.

Life wasn't so romantic for Valentine during spring training. In the last three weeks of March, he was hit by baseballs five times, and he hit a catcher once and a wall once.

The other three American League games ended 3-2, Baltimore edging Chicago in 12 innings, Kansas City trimming Boston in 10 and Detroit nipping Cleveland in nine. Rain washed out New York at Minnesota.

Valentine's lusty performance provided more than enough support for Pete Richert, who stopped the Angels on three hits. Valentine tripled and scored in the first inning and triggered a two-run eighth with a double.

Brooks Robinson singled in the 12th inning and scored Baltimore's winning run as Russ Snyder grounded into a force out. J. C. Martin's passed ball put Robinson at third. Another Robinson, Chicago's Floyd, ignited a two-run rally in the seventh that tied the game 2-2.

Bill Freehan singled in the Detroit ninth and raced home on Willie Horton's pinch-hit double. Mickey Lolich limited Cleveland to three hits before departing for Horton.

Kansas City won in the 10th inning when Ozzie Chavarria reached first on Mike Ryan's passed ball on the third strike, stole second and scampered all the way home as Bert Campaneris beat out a hit to third.

Westrum's Mets Playing Near .500 In 1st Month

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Mets are back on Manager Wes Westrum's timetable today — thanks to a reluctant dragon with a fireman's touch.

Dick Selma, a hard-throwing young right-hander who flopped as a starting pitcher last month, sparkled in relief Tuesday night for the fourth straight time as the Mets downed the Houston Astros 7-4 and moved within one game of the .500 mark in National League play.

Westrum, beginning his first full term as New York manager, set his sights on the break-even mark for the first 30 days of the season before it began. Few observers took him seriously but the Mets reached the elusive .500 mark for the first time in their history in the second week and they can make it again tonight with another victory over the Astros.

"Selma did the job," Westrum said. "He's the kind of guy who can come in and fire the ball for you."

Selma took over for southpaw Rob Gardner, who was struggling despite a 7-3 lead, in the fifth inning and checked the Astros the rest of the way to pick up his second victory in three decisions. He held Houston hitless until the ninth, when three singles produced a run.

It was the first run off the 22-year-old Californian in four relief appearances. Moreover, Bob Aspromonte's infield single leading off the inning was the first hit off Selma during the same time — a span of eight innings.

Selma struck out four and didn't walk anybody. He has not issued a walk during his tenure as a reliever, which began April 29, and has fanned nine.

Chester Softball League Will Meet

Five teams indicated they would enter teams at a previous meeting but three additional teams are needed. Also anyone wishing to umpire in the league are asked to contact Wilbur Staley.

Rochester Needs One Victory To Clinch Playoff

TORONTO (AP)—Mike Walton scored three goals, and the Rochester Americans whipped the Cleveland Barons 7-0 Tuesday night to move within one game of clinching the Calder Cup.

The Amerks, regular season champions of the American Hockey League's Western Division, now hold a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven final series. The series resumes Friday night in Cleveland.

Walton got the only marker Rochester goalie Bob Perrault needed, when he took a pass from Duane Rupp and beat goalie Les Binkley at 3:07 of the first period.

Before the period ended, Larry Jeffrey, Walton and Darrell Sly added goals to give the Amerks an insurmountable lead.

Walton completed his hat trick at 6:10 of the second period. Brian Conacher also scored for the Amerks in the second, and Gerry Ehman completed the scoring in the third.

Chester VFW Captures Title

The Chester VFW captured the championship of the Big League by defeating Headpin Lanes, 2,847-2,722.

High series for the winners was rolled by Charles Davis with 615 while Clarence Eagle turned in a 592 game. J. Perkins fired a 619 for the losers.

Members of the winning team include Jim Morris, captain, Davis, Eagle, Dick McGurren, George McGurren, Joe Banik and Howard Allison.

League members are reminded that the single and doubles will be rolled Monday and the banquet will be at Parkway Lounge May 23 at 6:30 p.m.

George Mikan, who played for Minneapolis, led the NBA in scoring three consecutive seasons, beginning with the 1948-49 campaign.

Colts Top Apaches

The Colts defeated the Apaches 5-2 in an HIS League game Tuesday at Highlandtown. Bob Boyle was the winning pitcher with seven strikeouts while Jim Talbott fanned 11 batters in a losing cause.

Beavers Squeeze Home 2-1 Victory

A triple by Bob Pancake and a neat squeeze bunt by Jim Burcham gave Beaver Local a 2-1 victory in extra innings over visiting Springfield Local of Jefferson County Tuesday.

The nine inning contest wound up in a close pitching duel between Beaver's Frank Quetot and Springfield's Carrol. Quetot fanned 14 batters in going the route and Carrol struck out 18.

Quetot only allowed four hits and Carrol five and neither team committed an error.

Springfield is considered one of the top baseball teams in Eastern Ohio. The victory Tuesday was the 10th in 14 games for Coach Lloyd Stockdale's team.

Beaver Local scored a run in the first inning and Springfield tied the game with one in the second. That's the way the contest remained until the ninth when Pancake tripled to right centerfield and Burcham dropped a perfect squeeze bunt down the first base line.

Beaver Local plays host to Toronto today and Southern Local Thursday.

SPRINGFIELD 010 000 000—1-4-0

Gives Reds New Life

Rose To Play At 2nd Remainder Of Season

ATLANTA (AP) — Pete Rose doesn't have to worry any more about being shuffled around in the Cincinnati Reds' infield.

"Rose will play second base the rest of the year," Manager Don Heffner said of the 25-year-old infielder who caught fire at the plate against the Atlanta Braves after returning to his familiar defensive post.

Rose, the Reds' second baseman the past three seasons, was moved to third this spring to make room for rookie Tommy Helms. Rose wasn't hitting and the Reds weren't winning, so Heffner moved him back to second last Thursday.

The move has paid off with a four-game winning streak, and Rose has led the Reds' assault by batting at a .643 pace in three games against the Braves.

He got five hits in nine batting appearances Tuesday night as the Reds swept a doubleheader from the Braves, 8-2 and 8-0. Monday night, when the Reds won 7-4, Rose had four hits in five tries including a homer.

Rose brought a .200 batting average to Atlanta, and has boosted it to .267.

Knicks Expected To Get Russell As Draft Opens

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Knickerbockers, needing a big, strong backcourt man to get out of the cellar, eyed All-America Cazzie Russell of Michigan as the No. 1 pick in today's National Basketball Association draft.

Russell, 6-foot-5½ and 218 pounds, was regarded as a can't miss prospect by the pro scouts, many of whom downgraded Rick Barry a year ago.

Barry became a sensational player for the San Francisco Warriors and was named Rookie of the Year and was voted to the league All-Star team. Some thought Barry might be too frail for the pros but they never will say that about Russell.

New York had won first pick by the flip of a coin with the Detroit Pistons after the two teams finished last in their respective divisions. San Francisco, St.Louis, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, Boston, Philadelphia and the new Chicago entry followed in that order. Chicago got the third and fourth picks in the second round, behind Detroit and New York.

The draft was scheduled to start at noon, EDT.

The old territorial draft that gave the Knicks the rights to Princeton's Bill Bradley a year ago has been abandoned. Bradley passed up the pros to continue his studies in England.

Russell, Dave Bing of Syracuse and Dave Schellhase of Purdue were among the most highly regarded pro prospects.

Marietta Crew Top-Seeded In Regatta At Philadelphia

MARIETTA, Ohio (AP)—The Marietta College crew, unbeaten in eight races this season, has been top-seeded in the 28th annual Dad Vail Regatta in Philadelphia this weekend.

Coach Ralph Lindamood's Pioneers won the Dad Vail in 1963 and with it the small college rowing championship. Last year, Marietta finished second behind Northeastern University but the Boston school is not entered this season.

The Pioneer varsity boosted its record to 8-0 last Saturday by successfully defending its crown in the Mid - American sprint championship regatta at Lafayette, Ind.

Marietta finished ahead of Purdue, Michigan and Kansas State. The Pioneers, only school in the state that competes in crew, also has junior varsity and freshmen crews entered in the regatta.

Lindamood, who took over the Pioneer rowing helm in 1959-60, has seen his varsity crews cross the line ahead of 122 opponents while trailing only 20 in the last seven years.

Beaver Boosters Induct Officers

New officers, headed by Michael Klembara, president, were installed during a meeting of the Beaver Local Boosters Club Tuesday night.

Kenneth Eells and Jim McLaughlin are trustees, along with Donald Posage, who was appointed to replace Klembara.

Jack Havice gave a description of the Harry Greenwood Memorial Trophy and Donald Ross, football coach, explained the qualifications a boy must meet to receive the award.

A discussion was held on the spring fair, with Mrs. Peg Downard appointed kitchen chairman. George Hamilton's Orchestra and the Jades rock 'n roll group will play for a free dance to open the fair May 26 at the public school gym. The musicians are donating their time, the club said.

Mrs. Ruth Green served refreshments. The next meeting will be May 24 at the high School.

To Name Grid Coach

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — The new head football coach at the U.S. Military Academy probably will not be named until next week. A spokesman said candidates to succeed Paul Dietzel still are being interviewed.

ABC Champs Get Reprieve In ABC Event

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Thelmal Lanes of Louisville, Ky., which failed to field a full team Tuesday night, will get another chance to defend its classic division team title in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

The 1965 champion quintet apparently forefeited its title when Tommy Tuttle of King, N.C., and Nelson Burton Jr. of St. Louis did not show up for the club's scheduled appearance.

Thelmal's chances were revived when ABC officials decided in a meeting late Tuesday night to allow the team to be rescheduled.

A Rochester, N.Y., booster team volunteered to withdraw to make room for Thelmal on Friday night.

As a result, Thelmal will bowl its first three-game block tonight and finish two nights later.

The Don Carter Glove team of St. Louis packed the War Memorial Tuesday, but several unheralded teams provided all the excitement.

The Carters totaled 2,898 as Dick Weber shot, Don Carter 604, Ray Bluth 574, Pat Patterson 555 and Tom Hennessey 541.

Bill Beach of Sharon, Pa., electrified the capacity crowd of 2,500 by shooting the highest triplicate in ABC Tournament history, 246-246-246—738. The 36-year-old pro led the Brucato Five of Cleveland to a 3,108 series, the best start by a classic team in the current tournament.

The Brucatos, an unsponsored make-up team, need only 2,831 pins in this second block tonight to overtake Acme Press of Philadelphia, which leads the tournament with a six-game total of 5,939.

Beach and Larry Oaker of Cleveland, another member of the Brucatos, are the defending ABC classic doubles champions.

Several other teams got running starts on the classic five-man title.

Bobby Mahler Furs of New Orleans, La ..had 3,051, Yukon Kids of Fairbanks, Alaska, 3,028, and Aircraft Products of Dallas, 3,002.

Midland Man Hurt In Crash

A Midland man was injured slightly when an auto swerved out of control early today in Klondyke and hit a parked car and truck, police reported.

Daniel Mullen of 822 Midland Ave. was treated at City Hospital for a pain in the left shoulder after the collision at 3:45 a. m. on Harvey Ave. that demolished a 1965 auto driven by James Mullen of 57-B Midland Heights, Midland, officers said.

The driver said he swerved to avoid striking a dog which ran into the street. Officers said the owners of the parked vehicles have not been identified. Mullen's car caused damage to the front and rear of the truck and the rear of the auto, a 1956 model, police said.

Two cars were damaged in a collision at Broadway and E. 3rd St. Tuesday at 5:34 p. m., officers reported.

A 1960 convertible driven by Betty K. Saling, 19, of Lisbon St. rounded the corner and struck the rear of a 1965 four-door sedan operated by Ray Steed, 61, of 306 Broadway, which was halted for a traffic light.

The young woman said five empty glasses on the seat beside her crashed together as she made the turn. When she looked to see if any of the glasses were broken, her auto struck Steed's car, she said.

Minor damage resulted from a mishap Tuesday at 4:22 p.m. on the parking lot at the Adkins Lumber Co. yard at Harvey Ave. and Elizabeth St., police said.

A backing 1964 four-door sedan driven by Dornell Wells, 37, of 819 Jefferson St., Newell, bumped a parked 1964 auto owned by Jack C. Swan of 244 Haywood St., officers reported.

Bus-Buying Plan Will Be Studied By Ohio Boards

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Participation in a cooperative bidding system for school bus purchases will be considered here Friday by representatives of Ohio Boards of Education.

State Supt. E. E. Holt called the meeting Tuesday.

Last Monday, Holt was authorized to make his office available to the boards of education in development of a cooperative bidding system for purchase of buses by the individual boards, with each board contracting for the purchase of its buses.

Friday's session was called to implement the new plan on the assumption it does overcome a court ruling of last week. It struck down an earlier plan for centralized purchasing by the state.

Under the new plan, the state would set up a cooperative bidding system with local school districts contracting for actual bus purchases.

He's Not Napping

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Mayor Robert Hinerman believes in planning ahead. Spring was just a few days old when the Cabell County Court approved his request for the display of a nativity scene on the Courthouse lawn. The mayor told the court he felt the county grounds were more suitable for the Yuletide display of local churches than the city parking lot, where it was formerly held.

OSU Expert To View Skull Found In County

Formal identification still was being awaited today of a huge skull believed to be that of a prehistoric mastodon. It was unearthed Sunday in the Lisbon area.

The blackened skúll was dug up during the beginning of a strip mine operation on the Delmar Sanor farm between Chambersburg and New Alexander.

Ohio State University officials were notified and Dr. Raymond Baby of the OSU fossil museum was expected to arrive in Lisbon this afternoon.

The skull was hauled to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Cole of E. Pine St. after it was discovered.

A dragline operator who uncovered the skull first thought it was a tree stump.

Harold Kepner, president of the Buckeye Coal Mining Co. of Lisbon, identified it, and he and Cole, his stepson, hauled it back to Lisbon.

Kepner said the skull was dug from the muck of peat moss beds on the west side of Hill Rd., just north of Route 172. Kepner said he has dug up fossils previously, but nothing like the skull.

The fossil measures about 40 inches from head to snout and 24 inches across. It weighs more than 100 pounds.

If it is a mastodon skull, it would be from 8,000 to 9,000 years old, experts in the field pointed out.

Suffoletta Purchases Business In Midland

The Wunder Bar, 711 Midland Ave., Midland has been purchased by Frank Suffoletta, son of the late Sallivan Suffoletta.

Suffoletta purchased the building and business May 1 from the co-owners, Thomas Pacine and Frank A. Suffoletta, an attorney.

Suffoletta, 23, said he has no immediate plans for remodeling the establishment, but will provide the same business format as in the past.

voted Butler District representatives to the Board of Education, while John P. Morgan was named the Clay District representative to the board.

Butler District candidates were Weller, Barnabei, Robert H. Miller, Silas Boley, George E. Owings, Idabel F. Stankiewicz, Nick Tunanidis and Charles K. Misoyianis, all of Weirton. The vote was:

Weller	4,064
Barnabei	3,878
Miller	2,766
Boley	2,338
Owings	2,178
Stankiewicz	1,778
Tunanidis	1,026
Misoyianis	889

Weller, the top candidate, will serve a six-year term and Barnabei, who placed second, will complete an unexpired term, beginning immediately, and concluding at the end of 1970.

Clay District candidates were John P. Morgan, Dr. W. Dale Williams, incumbent, and Mary Lou Newburn, all of New Cumberland. The vote was:

Morgan	3,287
Williams	2,999
Newburn	1,787

Morgan will represent Clay District along with John P. Jones of New Cumberland, whose six-year term will expire at the end of 1970. The term of Dr. Williams, now in his second term, will expire at the end of 1966.

Under West Virginia law, no more than two members may be named from the same magisterial district.

Members of the County Court will sit as a board of canvassers on Friday at 10 a.m. to certify the tabulation of votes.

day through Saturday — from 9 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. each day except Thursday, when it will function from 9 a. m. to 9 p.m.

Police will switch the walk light on and off manually until a time clock arrives, the director said.

A single control will operate the traffic signals at 5th and Market, 4th and Market and 3rd and Market.

There will be a 32-second cycle of green for east and west traffic, then a 20-second cycle for pedestrians, then a 32-second cycle for north and south auto traffic. The walk light actually will be in operation for 12 seconds. All four lights will remain red for 10 additional seconds in each cycle, giving pedestrians 22 seconds in all in which to cross the street.

When the walk light switches on at 5th and Market Sts., the signals at 4th and Market and 3rd and Market will show green for east and west auto traffic.

When weather permits, and if the light proves a success, new crosswalk lines will be painted at the intersection, Vodrey said. In addition to the regular crosswalks, the "scatter" pattern includes an extra set in the form of a big "X" marking out the diagonal paths pedestrians may follow. Vodrey invited reaction from the public on the operation of the new signal.

necessary, must be for limited purposes and tightly controlled.

"Surely it is not a paranoid vision of America's place in the world to recognize that freedom is still indivisible — still has adversaries whose challenges must be answered."

Johnson said the challenge is sternest in Southeast Asia.

"The aims for which we struggle are aims which, in the ordinary course of affairs, men of the intellectual world applaud and serve: the principle of choice over coercion, the defense of the weak against the strong and aggressive, the right of a young and frail nation to develop free from the interference of her neighbors, the ability of a people — however inexperienced, however different, however diverse — to fashion a society consistent with their own traditions and values and aspirations," Johnson said.

Court Suspends Fine For Man In Dog Case

Hobart Ring of 782 Fenton St. was given a suspended $10 fine today by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff when he pleaded guilty to a charge he allowed his dog to run at large Thursday.

Ring was ordered to pay court costs of $7.50. He also was warned to confine his dog in the future or tie it securely. Ring told the court the dog was tied Thursday, but broke away.

The affidavit was signed by Dog Warden Harold Flowers, who testified Ring's dog pursued a child, causing her to fall and injure her knee.

1 Killed, 15 Hurt In Explosion At Plant In Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — An explosion in a soap plant left one man dead and 15 injured today.

The blast at Wayne Soap Co., caused when a naphtha derivative leaked from a machine and ignited, injured some 80 children and 27 adults Tuesday.

The blast shattered windows at Morley Elementary School three blocks away on Detroit's South Side, hurling glass splinters into classrooms filled with children. Eight children were treated at hospitals and 75 others received first aid at the school.

Six Detroit hospitals released all but 16 patients.

Waterford Park Facilities Due To Open By May '67

The opening date for a $1.3 million project at Waterford Park, including a 23-acre golf course, Bath and Tennis Club, swimming pool and complete recreation area has been set for May 1967, it was reported during the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel.

Keith L. Black, manager of operations for the new facilities, displayed plans for the proposed layout, which includes space for badminton and shuffleboard courts, a playground and a miniature golf course.

In addition, a 50-unit motel will be constructed on the tract, situated between the race track and West Virginia Route 66, Black said. The $1.3 million construction cost figure does not include the motel.

BLACK explained that James F. Edwards, track owner who originated plans for the complex, "started with the idea of just a golf course, and then decided on the Bath and Tennis Club, Olympic - size swimming pool, and so forth."

Black emphasized the potential of the recreational facilities to the community and pointed out that their function would have no relationship with the race track, being under separate management.

"The new facilities will be primarily for area people, and we hope to hire college and high school coaches to set up instruction sessions for family members.

"We have talked to motel people in the area on the possibilities of our plan, and feel that the new motel will not hurt other business, but actually may mean additional customers. It is not intended to be competitive."

Black pointed to the Waterford operations as a great impetus to the area economy, estimating that the track spends $14 million each year locally. In addition, 80 per cent of the park employes, according to Black, are residents of the immediate area, with more than half of these from East Liverpool. A large number of new employees will be hired to staff the new facilities, he added.

IN RESPONSE to a query during a question - and - answer period following his talk, Black stated that a boat marina will be established in the future, but that plans are indefinite at present.

He further explained that 300 families eventually will be accepted as charter members of the Bath and Tennis Club, and emphasized the desirability of signing up members of area communities. Supervision and "babysitting" service will be provided for children, Black added.

Black was introduced by Maurice Rapport, program chairman.

E. R. Chandler, president, announced that the 1966 Rotary International convention will be held June 12-16 in Denver, Colo.

Harold Barth, secretary, presented certificates for outstanding community service to Mike Turk and Robert Boyce on behalf of the board of directors.

Guests were A. V. Hays, Metsch Refractories executive; H. Jud English, executive manager of the Columbiana County Motor Club, and Arnold F. Kozlowski, plant office manager of the new Ohio Brass Co. branch in Newell.

Change Made In Dates Of County Beauty Fete

A change was announced today in the dates for the Miss Columbiana County Beauty Pageant to be sponsored by the East Liverpool Jaycees.

The pageant originally was scheduled for June 10-11, but now will be held June 17-18 at Memorial Auditorium.

The shift was necessary because of a conflict with another Jaycee project. The change was approved by the Board of Directors Tuesday night.

The pageant winner will be sent to the Miss Ohio Pageant, a step toward the Miss America Pageant at Atlantic City.

Sixteen contestants are expected to take part. A parade will be held June 18, with Mayor George Willshaw serving as marshal. All the contestants will be driven through the downtown area in open convertibles.

Plans also were outlined for the election of officers May 23. The installation will be held during the inaugural ball June 11 at the Inn Town Motel.

Vincent Laneve, president, reported on the Ohio Jaycee convention last weekend at Columbus when Dr. Louis Gorey of Worthington was elected president.

The board voted to submit several amendments to the constitution and bylaws to the membership for approval at the next meeting.

One provides for officially changing the name from East Liverpool Junior Chamber of Commerce to East Liverpool Jaycees in accordance with changes made on the state and national levels. The other would modify granting associate memberships.

Dave Parr, chairman, said plans are being completed for the post-prom party for East Liverpool High School juniors and seniors May 20. The movie, "Raisin In The Sun," will be screened and a band from the Salem area will provide musical entertainment. A catered meal will be served.

The board voted not to hold the Home and Auto Show, which had been scheduled for May 18-21, because too few merchants had expressed interest in participating.

The Teen-Age Road-E-O will be held June 11 at the Westgate School parking lot. Frank Moss is chairman.

Senator Hits Outbursts Against U.S. Viet Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper said today "emotional public outbursts" against the U.S. stand in South Viet Nam are not going to ease public concern about the Asian war.

With Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara due for another televised session before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, the Iowa senator said for all the televised talk of Viet Nam, "there's still considerable confusion.

"And I think we're all looking for some answers," Hickenlooper said in an interview.

Meanwhile, the committee said Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, will testify Thursday on the Southeast Asian war at a closed hearing.

Hickenlooper said he thinks the time has come for the Foreign Relations Committee to hold quiet, detailed discussions of the $3.4-billion foreign aid bill.

But he said the harsh words about Viet Nam probably will rage on as long as the committee holds public, televised sessions on the foreign aid measure.

Hickenlooper said he privately had told Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., the chairman, that he thinks the committee should get down to the details of foreign aid in private sessions.

Fulbright said he hopes today's McNamara appearance will mark the end of public testimony on the aid bill.

Hickenlooper said the public arguments do not answer questions about the aid program or about the Vietnamese situation.

"I don't think we can solve it by emotional, public outbursts," he said.

Foreign aid, the announced topic at an explosive round of committee hearings, has been all but obscured by the raging debate over American policy on Viet Nam.

Committee Democrats have done most of the debating. It was that way Monday when Secretary of State Dean Rusk testified. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., addressing his words to the television audience, said the voters should repudiate President Johnson next November if he does not change the American posture in Southeast Asia.

Woman Files Suit For Wreck Death

A Raccoon Township woman has entered a suit against a Rochester man in Beaver County Court as the result of the death of her husband in an automobile accident last November.

Mrs. Martha Bohen of Raccoon Township has charged Manley Cupshall of Rochester with "negligence" and is asking for settlement of $1,925 for funeral and probate costs and for damages in excess of $2,000.

Her husband, Elmer Bohen, was a passenger in the car driven by Cupshall on Nov. 27, 1965, when it went out of control and struck several parked autos on Route 51 in Center Township.

Series Of Test Runs Slated For Astronauts

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —With an excellent countdown rehearsal behind them, the Gemini 9 astronauts today planned a day-long series of test runs for next Tuesday's launching.

Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Eugene A. Cernan were to make simulated launchings and practice emergency procedures and key aspects of the three-day orbital flight, including a make-believe rendezvous with an Agena target satellite.

Stafford and Cernan Tuesday suited up and crawled into their spacecraft as launch teams conducted a flawless double countdown on the Titan 2 rocket that is to hoist Gemini 9 into space and the Atlas which is to lift the Agena.

Judge Lectures Motorist In Late Arrival At Court

A 26-year-old motorist who arrived 15 minutes late today for a traffic hearing before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff narrowly escaped a 24-hour stay in jail, but finally was "let off" with a stern lecture from the court.

Kenneth E. Broadbent of Glenn St., Glenmoor, was not present at 9 a.m. when the judge called his case — a State Highway Patrol charge alleging that he crashed a stop sign Tuesday at 5:40 p. m. at the junction of County Rd. 447 and State Route 170. Following the custom in such case, the judge ordered a bench warrant for his arrest.

Broadbent walked in about 15 minutes later while another case was in progress. The judge commented he intended to lock up the defendant until Thursday. Later, he relented, withdrew the warrant and settled for a stiff lecture to the driver.

"I didn't know if I wanted to hear your case now or put you in jail until Thursday morning," he told Broadbent. "When you are told to be here at 9, it means 9. I was here at 9 and the officers were here at 9."

Broadbent was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to the stop sign violation.

Heart Attack Fatal

TOKYO (AP) — Dr. Shinzo Koizumi, 78, former president of Keio University and onetime tutor of Crown Prince Akihito, died Wednesday of a heart attack.

Hearing Planned In Auto Use Case

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today scheduled a hearing Friday morning for Ernest Lamp Jr. of Dodge St. on a charge of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

The affidavit was filed by Ronald Gail Briggs of Fawcett St. He alleged that Lamp drove his 1957 model car on Saturday without his consent. Police said no report of the incident was filed with the local department.

The judge continued the hearing after Lamp said he wished time to attempt to obtain counsel. The court had warned the defendant he should seek an attorney, as the offense constitutes a felony. Judge Chertoff set Lamp's appearance bond at $500.

Summer Staff Named For Palestine's Park

EAST PALESTINE — Lifeguards, aides and other summer employes were hired by the City Park Commission at a meeting Monday night.

Final plans for the opening of City Park for the summer will be completed later, Vincent Cooper, secretary, said.

The J. G. Madden & Sons Co. was awarded a $850 contract for repairs to the roof of the old pavilion.

Named as lifeguards were Richard Nealis, Don Herriott, Robert Mollenkopf and David Stewart. Sue Hall was hired as ticket seller, with Nancy McCoy as assistant.

Wreck Injuries Fatal

Alleged Wiretapping

Board Resume Hearing In Police Major's Case

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—A three member state police board was scheduled to resume hearing testimony behind closed doors today in the court-martial of Maj. Willard J. Stanton.

There was no indication who would be called. The board is investigating charges that have grown out of a special House committee probe of alleged wiretapping by the state police.

Carcaci's private attorney, Paul Chalfin of Philadelphia, said his client had declined to answer any questions asked by the court-martial board concerning wiretapping.

"He answered certain questions in a limited area, such as his name and address," Chalfin said. "As far as his testimony on the issues at hand, he invoked his constitutional privilege not to testify on the ground of self-incrimination."

Carcaci told the House committee on Feb. 22 that he had used wiretaps in some of his investigations under orders from superiors.

One of three charges against Stanton, former chief of the state police detective bureau, is that he violated a 1957 state law by ordering an officer under his command to use wiretaps in an investigation.

Both Carcaci and Stanton were suspended in March after they failed to answer questions asked by superiors concerning the wiretapping allegations.

Carcaci is also scheduled to face a court-martial.

Chalfin said Tuesday he had been informed by acting State Police Commissioner Paul A. Rittlemann that a court-martial board had been appointed for his client, but no date had been set for the proceedings to begin.

Chalfin also said that he had asked to observe Stanton's proceedings but the request had been denied.

Stanton's court-martial is also closed to news media.

The first witness called Tuesday was Michael R. Aaronson, personnel officer of the department. He was before the board about 10 minutes, but declined to say what had taken place.

The third witness was detective Albert Pfadt, who was accompanied by his private attorney, Marlin Stephens of Johnstown.

Stephens also refused to discuss his client's testimony.

Last to appear before the court-martial board adjourned at 4:15 p.m., EDT, was former state police Sgt. Joseph Dipietro who had testified at the first House committee meeting on morale of the force.

Former commissioner E. Wilson Purdy was present for the day-long session, but was not called to testify. It was not indicated whether he would be called today.

Purdy told reporters he is now serving as a "temporary consultant" for a New York firm in criminal work. He did not elaborate.

Huette Dowling of Harrisburg, Stanton's private attorney, said his client had "a very courteous hearing."

Green, Pink Banners Mark Stores In Sale

Colorful green on pink window banners were distributed today to mark all participating stores in the Downtown Spring Festival of the East Liverpool Merchants Association, which will begin Thursday and continue through Saturday.

The sales event, based on an "outdoor living" theme, will be highlighted by the award of a brand new $1,000 bill as the top prize. Awards will aggregate about $2,000, as individual merchants will present prizes valued at not less than $25 each.

Most downtown stores also will be displaying recently - delivered window decals to show their membership in the merchants' association.

Rhodes Protests To Pennsy-NYC On Headquarters

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. James A. Rhodes has protested to the merging Pennsylvania and New York Central Railroads that their indicated plan for regional headquarters "passes understanding" in that none is listed for Ohio.

He wired Pennsylvania Chairman Stuart T. Saunders in Philadelphia and NYC President A. E. Perlman in New York on Tuesday, saying:

"Reconsideration is urgently requested of plans for regional headquarters structure so there can be some mutuality in the business which the combined railways are seeking from Ohio residents."

The governor said "Ohioans are indignant at word coming from the Pennsylvania Railroad directors' meeting today" that the merged lines contemplate operating regional headquarters in Pittsburgh, Indianapolis and Detroit but none in this state.

Stepfather's Held In Death Of Boy, 7

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul Dawson, 7, died Tuesday night in Mount Sinai Hospital with his body covered with welts from his neck to his knees. Police were holding his stepfather for investigation.

Paul, son of Mrs. Willie Barret, of Cleveland, died about a half hour after he was taken to the hospital by his mother and his stepfather, Lee E. Barret, 33.

Police said Barret told them he struck Paul with an electric cord because the boy, one of five children, had disobeyed Mrs. Barret and cursed her.

The coroner will rule.

Anti-Poverty Grant OKd For Ohio Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A federal antipoverty grant of $278,067 for a homemakers service program in Montgomery, Miami, Warren, Greene, Darke and Preble counties has been approved, the Ohio Office of Opportunity reports.

The funds go to the Supporting Council on Preventive Effort of Dayton to operate a one-year program in which 49 homemakers selected from underprivileged families will assist others of low income.

Four East Liverpool men and Midland and Beaver Falls residents were arrested following the incident.

In another case, Jimmy Brown of 480 Ohio Ave., Midland, was indicted for "aggravated assault and battery" concerning a knifing incident in Midland Heights Feb. 4.

FREE GIFTS Just for looking . . . a free gift for you or the children. No obligation.

This spread is brand new. It tastes exactly like peanut butter and bacon... but there's no bacon in it.

Until now, when you wanted a peanut butter and bacon sandwich you had to fry the bacon until it crisped, drain off the fat, blot up excess drippings with paper towels, crumble the bacon in a mixing bowl, and add a generous amount of Skippy® Peanut Butter. Then you got a large spoon and stirred until it was well mixed and reasonably easy to spread.

Skippy has changed all that. New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has taken the work and the mess and the cleaning-up out of making a peanut butter and bacon sandwich.

New Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps has all the crunch, crackle and old-fashioned smokehouse flavor of bacon. But instead of bacon, Skippy has created little crisps of vegetable protein with remarkably true bacon flavor. These, mixed with Skippy, make a tasty spread—perfect for snacks, canapes, and sandwiches, even on meatless days.

So, for all you people who like the taste of a bacon and Skippy sandwich, try them together in new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps.

Try some and Skippy will send you 25 cents in cash!

We're so sure you'll like the exciting taste of new Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps that we'll send you 25 cents in cash for just buying a jar—any size!

Simply send the label from a jar of Skippy Peanut Butter with Smoky Crisps, and the coupon provided here to Skippy Smoky Crisps, Box 43A, Brooklyn, New York 11202. By return mail, Skippy will send you 25 cents in cash.

Nutrition For Senior Citizens

Ida Jean Kain

We are indeed fearfully and wonderfully made. The body, given the proper replenishing nutrients, can repair itself. When adequate amounts of essential replacement materials are not furnished, repair work will be shoddy.

President Johnson has proclaimed May as Senior Citizen Month. With the expanded health service, senior citizens can enjoy a long prime of life. Good nutrition plays an important role in "Adding Life to Added Years."

THERE IS a gem of a booklet to help you, "Food Guide for Older Folks," which is put out by the Department of Agriculture and which stresses the fact that "Being well fed is such an advantage, and being poorly fed is such a handicap, that it's worth the effort to move out of the not-well-enough-fed class — if that's your state — and into the ranks of wise eaters."

"All life long," the advice continue, "you need foods that contain protein and minerals—materials required for upkeep of body tissues and bone. . . . Foods that supply the different vitamins are needed. These vitamins, together with minerals and protein, make combination teams that keep the body running as smoothly as it should."

The booklet suggests a low-cost plan, a moderate - cost plan and a liberal plan, any one of which will provide for nutritional requirements.

Your food habits are good if you see to it that you eat the kinds of foods which furnish optimum nutrition. Your food habits are poor if you insist on eating only the food you like, without regard to nutrient needs.

SENIOR citizens require fewer calories. Therefore, the quality of the foods included becomes more important. Protein needs are not reduced appreciably, and mineral needs of older people appear to increase. You can never "retire" from the responsibility of choosing the foods which keep you in a good state of nutrition.

The protective foods needed daily are these: Milk (whole, skim or buttermilk), 1 pint; a citrus fruit or juice, plus one or two other fruits; vegetables, 2 or 3 daily, including one green leafy or yellow. Nutrition studies have shown that protein is used more effectively if a complete protein food is included at each of the three meals. The protein foods are milk, cheese, cottage cheese, eggs, lean meat, chicken, fish and whole grain cereal with milk. Some margarine, butter or vegetable oil should be used daily.

The good nutrients in foods work more efficiently together, and this is why nutritionists emphasize the need for balanced meals. By applying science to everyday eating you can have a new mastery over life.

The booklet "Food Guide for Older Folks" is available from the U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C. The price is 10 cents. Not in stamps, please.

Blasts 3 A. M. Parties

LBJ's 'Mink Coat Set' Attacked By Rep. Cross

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. H.R. Gross says the Johnson administration's "mink coat set" should cut out its 3 a.m. White House parties and swinging Watusis in the Smithsonian.

"If they want to do this, I suggest they renovate one of the burlesque halls for which Washington is fairly notorious," the Iowa Republican said.

"I don't think with a war going on, and the problems this government has to face, that the President of the United States — his family or the vice president — ought to spend time dancing until 3 in the morning."

Gross first made observations on the House floor Tuesday, then elaborated in an interview.

Referring to the opera ball, a midnight dinner-dance for 1,000 held last Friday in the Smithsonian Institution's Museum of History and Technology, he said:

"I was amazed and shocked that they had a $75 to $100 per ticket dance at the Smithsonian with the Rev. (Bill D.) Moyers doing the Watusi and Frug and one woman sent home to get dressed because she was half naked."

Moyers, White House press secretary who is an ordained Baptist minister, was indeed doing the Watusi, as were a dozen ambassadors, half the Cabinet, a number of congressional leaders and their wives.

Mrs. Rudolph E. Carter, wife of a State Department officer, showed up wearing a transparent white lace dress with only a flesh-colored body stocking underneath. Some of her fellow members of the ball's executive committee sent her home to put on a slip. She did.

"I guess Washington isn't ready for fashion yet," she said afterwards. "This dress was created by a New York designer especially for this party."

Her husband said, "At first, I was shocked by it. But I figured, 'Oh well, it's fashion. Let her wear it.' It's much sexier without the slip."

The ball is an annual fund raiser, and since part of the money was for the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts, a Smithsonian satellite, the champagne dance was held in the museum.

In place of the artifacts exhibits, there were tables in the main corridors for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and his wife, the Robert F. Kennedys, former ambassador to the Soviet Union Llewellyn E. Thompson, the Moyers, Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, Mrs. Nicholas Katzenbach and others.

Many of the same crowd were at a White House party April 27 in honor of Danish Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag and his wife which lasted until 3 a.m.

"I'm not antidancing," insists Gross. "But I don't think the President or vice president should be carrying on til morning. And I don't see why the Smithsonian should be made available for this kind of gyrating."

Body Stuffed Into Car Trunk

Police Continuing Probe In Murder Of Woman, 32

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lisbeth (Lisa) Davenport, nee Rosebud Hillary Hayward in Yorkshire, England, crammed a lot of living into her 32 years before being shot dead and stuffed into a car trunk.

That much appeared certain, but not a whole lot else, as investigation continued in Columbus' wealthy Upper Arlington suburb and in northwest Ohio into her slaying.

Police departments of Upper Arlington, Lima, Findlay and the Ohio Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation all were working on the case today.

It wasn't known how many persons underwent questioning in the mystery in which some clues may have grown cold in the three days between the killing and discovery of the crime.

The body was found Tuesday in a car abandoned in downtown Findlay.

Mrs. Davenport had many acquaintances in the Columbus area where she worked as a secretary in a downtown office. And she had been active — as Lisa Nation—in amateur theater activities in Lima and neighboring communities.

She moved here from Lima in 1964 after annulment of her marriage in Canada to a Lima man who, authorities said, it turned out already had a wife.

Since Christmas 1964 she had been married to Edwin Davenport, 30, a Columbus loan company executive and former policeman in nearby Worthington. It was the third marriage for each.

Davenport went to Findlay after his wife's body was found and underwent questioning there and in Upper Arlington. He admitted there had been a "rocky" period in their marriage last year but said things had smoothed out.

Police Chiefs Wayne F. Ethell of Findlay and Roy F. Thomas of Upper Arlington both said Davenport's account of his whereabouts last Friday night and early Saturday when the murder probably occurred had checked out satisfactorily.

He told of Mrs. Davenport saying she was going to Lima for a visit and of waving goodby as she left. She did not show up in Lima.

Somewhere, she had been shot twice through the back at close range, evidently as she lay face down in grass.

An autopsy was planned at University Hospital morgue here today.

Tracing the past of the victim, investigators found she married Dennis William Nicolls, a Royal Air Force man, in England, but was divorced and went to Canada several years ago. There she had her first home changed, and met the Ohioan who became her second husband and brought her to Lima.

A close friend in Lima, Mrs. Shirley Mericle Vajadai, whom Mrs. Davenport supposedly was going to visit over the weekend—but who said she hadn't been in contact with Lisa—described her as a "girl who had led a bizarre life."

Mrs. Vajadai described her petite blonde friend as intelligent, talented, cosmopolitan, sophisticated but "a very restless, frustrated girl."

Mrs. Vajadai said Lisa told of being orphaned as a child when her "wealthy" parents were killed in a plane crash, of attending the "best" private schools, of inheriting a fortune and spending it in a couple of years of globetrotting, of breaking an ankle while on stage with a ballet in Europe, being told she would never dance again, and suffering a nervous breakdown over this.

Sept. 13 Set For Permit Bid

Canton Sewage Problems Aired, But They Continue

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Canton's sewage treatment problems have been aired before the State Water Pollution Control Board with the only result being that they still exist.

Mayor Stanley A. Cmich, City Auditor Thomas L. Garrett, and other officials were told by the board Tuesday that they have until Sept. 13 to show why their application for a new permit should not be denied.

The action has the effect of permitting Canton's treatment plant to operate temporarily with no permit while city officials search for funds to make improvements.

Canton rebuilt its 14-year-old plant in 1962 at a cost of more than $1 million but the state claims it operates inefficiently, and with a shortage of manpower.

Health Department engineers said there have been "many, many complaints" of pollution, particularly along Nimishillen Creek south of the plant area.

Before the board acted, Mayor Cmich and the other officials outlined what is being done to bring in more revenue which Auditor Garrett said has been "budgeted completely and to the last dollar."

One source will be an increase in service rates to customers.

Health Department engineers lauded the city in its efforts to improve quality of supervisory personnel at the treatment plant, in particular the recent employment of George B. Walkenshaw as superintendent.

Walkenshaw, formerly of Lorain, was described as one of the best known men in the pollution control field in the state.

But John E. Richards, sanitation engineer, said an investigation showed there should be 35-36 employes operating the plant while at present there are only 22.

In other business, the board granted a renewal of Cleveland's permit until April 15, 1967.

Mayor Ralph Locher and other Cleveland officials said a recent 40 per cent boost in sewer rates and similar boosts now being negotiated with its suburbs will enable engineering work to begin this summer on more than $66 million in improvements.

The board received from Allen County commissioners a progress report on sanitary sewer projects in Bath and Perry Townships to serve the new Lima branch of Ohio State University.

Commissioners said financing and construction are under way to a point that should permit completion by the Sept. 1, 1966 deadline. Ohio State is to pay $100,000 of a total cost of $225,000.

Officer Cleared Of 3 Charges At Washingtonville

WASHINGTONVILLE —Council at a three-hour special meeting Tuesday night dismissed charges of insubordination, dishonesty and abusive treatment of motorists against Village Marshall Robert Bertolette.

The charges had been filed by Mayor Ben Snow and the Board of Public Affairs.

Counsel for the officer said the reported dishonesty concerning hours worked and sick leave was invalid because the records on which the charge was based was the same system he had used for many years.

Solicitor Jack Ohlman had said the charges of abusive treatment of motorists was based upon a number of complaints from drivers and auto clubs.

However, two witnesses who said last night the officer was "overbearing" added he was not discourteous or abusive with them.

As to the insubordination, counsel claimed the officer's interjections at Council meetings only followed a general policy of informality at the sessions.

GARDEN CITY, Kan. (AP) — Mrs. George Voth Jr., her four sons and several passers-by joined in chasing a grey goose which waddled across her yard. They captured the goose and then stored it in an abandoned dog house while they decided its fate. But a check with a local zoo revealed their catch as a barnacle goose which is federally protected.

Lodge Slated For Review Of Viet Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge scheduled meetings with military and civilian officials today in a broad review of Viet Nam problems.

After a session with President Johnson and the National Security Council Tuesday night, Lodge had appointments today with Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, South Vietnamese Ambassador Vu Van Thai and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Thursday the U.S. envoy and former Republican vice presidential nominee appears before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee headed by Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., a critic of the administration's Viet Nam policy. The committee session will not be public.

Official secrecy shrouded the substance of Lodge's talks, his first in Washington since he went to Saigon last August on his second ambassadorial assignment there.

Johnson shut off questions from newsmen while addressing them briefly after a 1½-hour Security Council meeting. Calling reporters to the White House Cabinet room where the meeting was held, and glancing at his top advisers still seated there, the President concluded by saying he had asked "these wise men" to supply him with all their information.

"I have it now," Johnson told newsmen, "and I have passed as much of it on to you as I could."

What Johnson passed on was limited to a few general statements. He praised Lodge as a dedicated public servant and termed his visit profitable.

The ambassador, Johnson said, had given a general analysis of the economic and political issues in Viet Nam. He said McNamara and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, had reported on the military situation, Secretary of State Dean Rusk had led a discussion of the political situation, and the President had reviewed his Far East policies.

Johnson told his top assitant on nonmilitary Vietnamese affairs, Robert Comer, to put task forces to work on various aspects of the situation to help the across-the-board review with Lodge.

There was no word on Lodge's personal plans. Originally sent to Saigon by President John F. Kennedy in June 1963, Lodge resigned a year later to join Republican forces opposing Barry Goldwater's bid for the party's presidential nomination. There have been unconfirmed reports that Lodge wants to leave his post again this summer.

The White House left open the possibility that it would have considerable more to say about Lodge's visit later. Johnson planned a formal White House dinner in the ambassador's honor next Monday.

The consultations are expected to continue into next week.

"I've learned something from my stay here," he said. "Fifteen-hour work days are out for a while." He said he planned to resume work on a part-time basis the middle of next month. Barnes suffered a heart attack — his second — on April 15.

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP) — U.S. Vice Adm. Paul H. Ramsay said today that Americans and Australians are fighting side by side in Viet Nam in the same spirit of cooperation and dedication that they showed in the Coral Sea battle 24 years ago.

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Adm. Richard Harrison Jackson (Ret.), America's oldest admiral, looked back on his long career as a naval officer at his 100th birthday party Tuesday and said: "I wish I could do it all over again."

More than 700 persons attended the party.

Strike Snarls Weir Project

WEIRTON — The city of Weirton and the West Virginia Air Pollution Control Commission have been advised that operation of the electrostatic precipitator on the No. 13 and 14 open hearth furnaces at the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp. has had to be halted due to a strike against four local independent companies which prevents hauling of dust from the precipitator by trucks of the Weirton Construction Co.

Teamsters Local 428 has gone on strike against the construction company and three other area firms.

It was announced recently that the electrostatic precipitator had completed a year of successful operation in removing effluents from the discharges from the No. 13 and 14 open hearth furnaces. The unit, part of Weirton Steel's step-by-step program to bring about complete air pollution control in its steelmaking facilities, had operated effectively until the strike forced curtailment of its operation.

Due to the strike, Weirton Steel also has advised both the West Virginia and Ohio Water Resources Commissions that the company is unable to have waste acids from its operations hauled to neutralization sites since trucks are not available for this work.

Expressway Proposed For Pittsburgh Area

HARRISBURG (AP) — A $100 million, 12½-mile expressway has been proposed to relieve traffic congestion in Pittsburgh's suburban South Hills district.

The State Highways Department said Tuesday the proposed limited access highway to replace Rts. 51 and 88, would run from the Liberty Tubes to the Allegheny-Washington County line.

The department said construction is planned to start by 1970.

Madison Sets Road Project

WEST POINT — Plans for road work were mapped during a meeting of the Madison Township trustees Tuesday night at the township garage.

It was reported the slag grant will be used for work on Noble Rd., Red Dog Rd. and Bell School Rd. The summer road maintenance work will be done on Air Beacon Rd., Cream Ridge Rd. and Bell School Rd.

Trustees said more used stop signs will be obtained from the county, be reconditioned and erected. Plans were made for posting speed limit signs on unpaved roads in a move to curb speeding.

The Standard Oil Co. was awarded a contract for supplying motor oil, gasoline and fuel oil for township vehicles.

Trustees indicated they would request the Madison Township Improvement group to submit the names of persons to be appointed to a committee to study the feasibility of establishing a zoning commission.

The township's application for a youth work project under an amendment to the Economic Opportunity Act has been increased from a $5,000 project to $9,098. Some 16 young men would be employed to improve roadside areas under a supervisor, with a part-time clerk included.

Those interested in the jobs, once the project is approved, may file applications with the trustees.

Constable Clarence Ammon submitted his report for April. He said anyone needing police aid may telephone his home at FU 5-2795.

The next meeting will be May 24.

The improvement group will meet Monday night at 8 at the Little Roc Lake on Route 267, with Richard Mattern, member of the County Regional Planning Commission, as speaker.

Safety Mark Set At Weirton Steel

WEIRTON — The Steel Works department at the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp. has worked one million man-hours without a lost-time accident, it was announced today by C. G. Tournay, president.

As of midnight May 7, the department's 2,800 employes had completed a million accident-free man - hours since March 5.

Commenting on the achievement, Tournay said "a record of this type, in the department where our basic steelmaking facilities are located, indicates the regard Weirton Steel employes have for safety on the job. Every employe of the Steel Works department can be proud of his part in making it possible."

James Ashbridge, safety director, also commended the employes for "an exceptional achievement that sets a standard for other departments of the company."

A. R. Benbow is manager of the Steel Works department and Paul VanJura and Luke Wilson are the safety managers.

The safety record is the second attained at Weirton Steel this year. In February, the 54-inch Strip Steel department reached two million man-hours without a lost-time accident.

Group Advances Its Project For 'Community Calendar'

Plans for organizing a centralized community activities calendar were discussed during a meeting of the Wellsville Women's Civic Club Tuesday night at the Elks Lodge.

The club will ask the Chamber of Commerce to assist in the project, with the calendar outline to be presented to the Chamber Thursday night.

Under the proposal, organizations will be asked to check with the Chamber to determine if there is a conflict of dates in social and community events.

Groups also will be asked to reserve dates on the calendar.

Mrs. Ethyl Stroble, president, conducted business. A report was heard on a public card party held in April.

The possibility of two women's organizations holding a cotton fashion show and coffee hour early in the fall also was discussed.

Mrs. Dorothy Katz reviewed the history of knitting and displayed a "wooden" seater made from a new type of yarn developed from wood pulp. Members modeled knit fashions.

Mrs. Martha Somers and Mrs. Billie Shoub were in charge of table decorations.

The next meeting will be June 14.

Roosevelt's Set To Resign Federal Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. goes to the White House today presumably to resign as chairman of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission to embark on a campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor of New York.

He has a late afternoon appointment with President Johnson and informed sources said he would deliver his resignation from the federal post.

Two other Democrats already are declared candidates for the nomination to oppose Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, who is seeking a third term. They are Eugene H. Nickerson, Nassau County executive, and Howard Samuels, an upstate New York industrialist.

Frank O'Connor, president of the New York City Council, also is expected to enter the race.

Lost Popularity

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Guy Goodwin, assistant U. S. attorney here, thought to encourage his newspaper boy by writing a long, enthusiastic letter nominating the youngster in a newsboy popularity contest here. "I don't know what happened," Goodwin said later, "But he missed our house with the next three editions."

Danger: Men At Play

GAFFNEY, S. C. (AP) —Louis Sossamon and Jim Cooley have invented a new golf shot —the ducky — to go along with the birdies and the eagles in the game. The two players routed a couple of ducks out of a pond on the sixth hole at Cherokee National Golf Club with bad shots and the ducks haven't been back since then.

Chrysler Set To Cut June Auto Output

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry took another bump Tuesday but still rolled along at a pace second only to record-setting 1965.

The latest move was a Chrysler Corp. decision to cut back its June car production. Ford and General Motors previously reduced their May output.

The cutbacks came in the wake of April sales reports which showed the four U.S. auto firms sold 761,606 cars, about 38,000 below the April 1965 total.

That report shook up auto executives who had seen first-quarter sales zoom to a record high of 2.2 million units, about 11,000 ahead of last year.

Many felt the April slump was just temporary and they counted on sales reports for the first 10 days of May, due Thursday to reverse the downward trend.

Auto executives who had sidestepped the issue of what effect the auto safety issue had on sales met it head on Tuesday.

Two presidents, Arjay Miller of Ford and Roy Abernethy of American Motors, said auto safety hearings were a part of the slowed sales picture.

General Motors confirmed Tuesday that it had stopped production of the Chevrolet Corvair at its Los Angeles assembly plant. Corvair was mentioned frequently in the safety hearings with GM defending it vigorously.

A GM spokesman said the Willow Run, Mich., plant, original center of Corvair production, is the only one now building Corvairs. That plant was involved in last week's GM work slowdown, and it will be closed three additional work days this month.

Corvair sales and production this year are running behind 1965 figures.

On the cheery side, auto makers reported that production of 1966 model cars through April 30 totaled 6.5 million units, nearly 700,000 ahead of output in the same period of the 1965 model run.

U.S. Postpones Satellite Launch; Reset Thursday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —A new gantry that prevented rocket access doors from opening all the way has caused a 24-hour postponement of an attempt to launch an Explorer satellite to probe the earth's upper atmosphere.

The launch was reset for 1 p.m. (EDT) Thursday.

The problem cropped up Tuesday when ground controllers detected strange radio signals in a guidance package in the second stage of the Delta rocket.

Technicians traced the trouble to the access doors—which are opened and closed by ground command. The rocket gantry recently was modified at a cost of half a million dollars and the new structure permitted the doors to open only part way.

The contact of the doors with the metal gantry caused the difficulty.

During the final phases of the countdown, the gantry will be rolled away from the pad and will not restrict the doors.

The 492-pound satellite is to give scientists a better picture of the chemical nature of the upper atmosphere.

Kidnapers Free Priest-Diplomat After 12 Days

ROME (AP) — Black-masked kidnapers freed a Spanish priest-diplomat unharmed today after holding him for 12 days in a vain attempt to get Pope Paul VI to intercede for political prisoners in Spain.

Msgr. Marco Ussia, ecclesiastic councilor of the Spanish Embassy to the Vatican, was released 28 miles north of Rome. He said he had been held in some sort of house, he did not know where, and could not recognize his captors who wore dark glasses and black masks.

Police said they had located the area where they believed an anti-Franco group of Spanish anarchists was holding Msgr. Ussia. The police said the kidnapers apparently turned him loose when they saw they could not slip him through the tightening police cordon.

Maola's Musical Desk Gets Wide Recognition

Hailed as "very unique and practical," an idea originated by Vincent Maola, ELHS band director and instrumental music supervisor, to assist his work is receiving national attention in magazines published by two music instrument companies.

Published in "Lyons Music News" and Connchord" magazines, which are distributed to all secondary schools and colleges, the illustrated articles relate how Maola worked with Blake Boyd, metal shop instructor, to combine a Howard music director's desk furnished by the Lyons firm and a Conn strobotuner used to check the pitch of various instruments.

Maola explains in the articles how an opening was cut in the desk for the face of the tuner, with the mechanism and exposed tubes hidden from sight inside the desk. There still is room for storage of music on one side.

During rehearsals, Maola can stand at the director's desk and keep the tuner in a position to calibrate. If a spot check is needed, he can switch on a microphone which also was built into the desk.

Only about 10 minuets is required to disassemble the tuner and return it to its case.

Maola pointed out the obvious advantages of combining the desk and tuner are that the strobotuner is always ready for use and he doesn't have to divert his attention from the musicians.

Chamber To Mail Ballots For Election Of Trustees

The Chamber of Commerce was scheduled to mail ballots today to all its members for the annual election of seven members of the 21-man Board of Trustees.

The way was cleared for the next step in the election procedure when a slate of 4 names was approved by the board Tuesday afternoon at its monthly meeting.

The nominating committee was comprised of John T. Hall, chairman, Joseph D. Coons, H. J. English, Ralph A. Finley and James A. Locke, all members of the board in expiring terms. Other board members whose terms are due to expire are George A. Shaw and W. E. Williams.

THE CHAMBER members will be asked to return the ballots by mail not later than midnight on Wednesday, May 25. A tellers' committee appointed at yesterday's meeting is expected to announce the election result at the next session of the board on June 14.

New terms will begin on July 1. When the new members are seated, the board will reorganize and elect officers for the next fiscal year, which will end on June 30, 1967. An officers' nominating committee also was appointed yesterday.

The board is comprised of 21 members, but 14 are holdovers because the terms are for three years, with seven expiring annually.

E. R. Chandler, executive manager, reported on the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber May 1-4 in Washington. The local delegation included Alwyn C. Purinton, president, Robert E. Boyce, past president, and Chandler.

He also discussed arrangements for the Chamber's annual spring membership dinner meeting June 1 at the Inn Town Motel. The principal speaker will be Ivan Elmer of Toledo, district manager for the U. S. Chamber in Ohio and Michigan.

Tickets and data on the event already have been mailed to all members. The deadline for reservations will be May 25.

The board also discussed arrangements for the annual scholarship recognition dinner May 25. The dinner is an annual project of the Chamber's public education committee, which pays tribute to young men and women representing the top 10 per cent of the graduating classes at area high schools. The top scholars and school representatives will be invited from the East Liverpool, Beaver Local, Oak Glen and South Side high schools.

REPORTING for the civic and community affairs committee, Arthur Doak discussed the current spring cleanup drive. Known as a "community pride" program, it seeks particularly to encourage neighborhood groups to brighten their own areas and to ask businessmen to renovate or improve their premises.

Dayton Allen, chairman, reported on the East Liverpool Mrchants Association's Downtown Spring Festival sales event, which will open Thursday and continue through Saturday. He also discussed ELMA's annual spring outing, in which members will travel to Pittsburgh June 8 to have dinner and attend a Pirate baseball game.

Shaw reported on recent activities of the Community Improvement Corp.

The board approved a motion to extend a standing invitation to the president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce or his representative to attend future monthly meetings of the board.

'Action' Plan Outlined At Wellsville Kiwanis

The program and work of the Community Action Council of Columbiana County was outlined by Miss Catherine Franzetta, acting director, during a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Piatt's Tea Room.

She reviewed the federal Economic Opportunity Act, which provides funds for the projects designed to improve the living and health standards of persons with low incomes.

The county group is governed by a board of trustees elected by the committee. Four from Wellsville serve on the board. They are Mrs. Helen Welch, Myron Weis, Calvin Jackson and Frank Wilson.

The council's office is located in Lisbon and project proposals are submitted by various groups throughout the county. The council acts as the coordinator between local groups and the Chicago headquarters which approves or disapproves the programs.

Area projects under consideration are for the improvement of Wellsville's Hammond Park, beautification of the Ohio River shoreline and a legal assistance program being set up with the Columbiana County Bar Association.

Of the funds supplied, 50 per cent must go for salaries to the low income residents, the speaker explained. The program is designed to stabilize and train persons to make them more self sufficient.

When the funds are made available, the county committee receives a letter of credit. The funds then are turned over to the sponsoring organizatons, who in turn make the expenditures and submit reports to the county board.

Twenty - two attended, including a delegation from the Salem Kiwanis.

City Park Board Plans For Work

Plans for summer improvement work on playgrounds, baseball fields and the riverfront area were discussed by the City Park Commission at a special meeting Tuesday night at City Hall.

Joseph Walters, Thompson Park superintendent, was selected to supervise the work. Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne reported a representative of the Coast Guard Station in Sewickley has been invited to attend a future session to discuss waterfront and river safety. VanDyne is in charge of applications for boaters for use of city-owned riverfront land for use as dock space.

A neighborhood spokesman asked for improvements at the Klondyke Playground. Members attending were Louis Yanni and Robert Owen. John Parsons, the third member, was out of town. The commission has set another special meeting May 19.

New Officers Elected For Local Nike Club

New officers were elected when the Nike Club of East Liverpool High School held its closing business meeting of the school term Monday night at the Gleanmoor offices of the Ohio Valley Gas Co. They are:

Miss Cathy Duffy, president; Miss Nancy Hall, vice president; Miss Jill Salisberry, secretary, and Miss Becky McIntosh, treasurer.

They will assume their duties at the close of the current school year when standing committee chairmen will be appointed and preliminary plans made for next term's program.

Thirty new members from the present junior class were initiated during Monday's meeting.

Miss Denise Persohn, retiring president, conducted the business session, which included a roll call of new members conducted by Vicki Galloway, Project Committee chairman; the final report of the treasurer, Cindy Kidder, and distribution of the year's last issue of the "Nike Newsletter" by Kay Standley, public relations chairman. The "Newsletter" contained a complete report of trophies and citations awarded by the sponsoring Business and Professional Women's Club at the May 2 "Recognition Night" event held at the Travelers Hotel.

The group discussed the possibility of organizing a Nike Club alumnae unit to meet annually with members of previous years, but tabled the question for further consideration.

Miss Penny Ealy, membership chairman, welcomed the new members and introduced Mrs. George F. McCullough of the BPW Advisory Board who conducted the candlelight initiation ceremonies, assisted by Mrs. Joel B. Harvey, also of BPW.

Mrs. McCullough addressed the group briefly, declaring that "because of the fine record of achievement established by the 1965-66 Nike Club, you, too, will take pride in your membership in the coming year. You will find that it will help you develop your talents and the ability to get along with and work with others."

She also pointed out that "because the East Liverpool BPW Club has led the way, many other BPW clubs throughout Ohio are following our example and establishing Nike Clubs in their local high schools."

Following the election, Miss Standley presented the Club's "Public Relations Scrapbook" to Miss Duffy, the new president, so that a "continuing record of our Nike activities can be maintained in future years."

In addition to Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. Harvey, other BPW members attending were Mrs. James G. McKinnon, chairman of the Advisory Board, and Miss Joan Witt, president.

Color Him Clever

Mothers Receive Honors At Event In Georgetown

Six mothers received prizes during a Mother's Day observance Sunday at the Georgetown Methodist Church School.

Miss Flora Nash, assistant superintendent of the church school, presented gifts to Mrs. Jennis Compton of Hamlin, W. Va., oldest; Mrs. Kenneth Mackall of Georgetown, youngest; Mrs. Robert Trimble of Georgetown, newest; Mrs. Homer Thompson of Midland, mother traveling farthest; Mrs. William Stewart of Georgetown, mother with the largest family present, and Mrs. Donald McHaffie of Georgetown, grandmother with the largest number of grandchildren present.

Miss Joan Stewart, a member of Mrs. Frank Todd's Sunday School class, offered a Mother's Day prayer and Mrs. Gilbert McHaffie's class read a poem, "My Carnation."

The girls of Mrs. McHaffie's class presented carnation corsages to their mothers.

Flowers were placed on the altar in honor of the mothers.

During the services, the Rev. Alexander Haines, pastor of the church, spoke on "Mothers" and the choir sang "Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me."

Rev. Haines announced that local members of the South Side High School graduating class will take part in the worship service May 22 at 11:30 a.m.

Has Card Trouble

NEW YORK (AP) — With nearly a third of the eight million index cards in the New York Public Library needing replacement because of age and wear, researchers are investigating the possibility of storing the index in a computer that would flash the cards on a television screen. Just to replace the cards that are in poorest shape, the index supervisor estimates, would cost about $3 million.

Slides Are Screened During Class Meeting

William McGown screened color slides of recent trips to Washington, D. C., and California at the meeting of the John Wesley Bible Class of the Newell Methodist Church Monday night in Fellowship Hall.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Vernal Zerkle.

Bob Evans presided.

The group discussed methods for increasing attendance at class meetings.

Tentative plans were outlined for holding a Fellowship dinner for members of the church and Sunday School on June 17.

The Rev. Willis Summers was a guest.

Lunch was served 10 by Clarence Allison and John Groubert.

The next meeting will be June 13 in the hall.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: How does a person develop courage? I'm 35 years old and still searching for the answer. What baffles me is that I chicken out on the silliest things.

For example: Last week the milkman overcharged me $2 and I spent an hour rehearsing what I was going to say to him. Finally I decided to skip it. Another time, during a committee meeting, a woman told a vicious lie about a good friend of mine. I knew it was a lie and I was boiling inside but I couldn't bring myself to speak up.

A few years ago I ran into a burning house and dragged out a relative without a minute's thought of my own safety. People said I was a hero — that I had performed an act of tremendous courage.

But is it courage when you don't stop to think about what you are doing? If I'm so brave why am I such a coward about the little things? What can I do about it?—TIMID LUMP.

Dear Lump: Very few heroes stop to think about the danger. The experts tell us that most acts of heroism are the result of the individual's conditioning and-or training.

Chickening out with the milkman was not because of a lack of courage. The reason can be found in your feelings of insecurity.

Verbalize your feelings with a friend. It will give you strength to face the next test and to act on your convictions. Each time you succeed it will make the next time easier.

Camp Followers

Dear Ann: This morning I telephoned my son's steady girl friend to see if she had heard anything from him. Henry is stationed at Ft. Dix.

The girl's mother said, "Oh, Diane went down there two weeks ago to be with Henry. She has taken an apartment for a month."

Ann, I was dumbfounded. I had to get a chair and sit down by the phone before I could do my housework.

Diane is 17 years old. She finished high school last semester. Her parents are respectable people but they must be crazy to allow her to go to an Army camp and spend a month with a boy.

We brought Henry up to know right from wrong but how can a young boy resist temptation when a girl throws herself at him? Steel he isn't made of. Now I know why we haven't heard from Henry for two weeks. He is so busy with the girl he can't find a minute to pick up a pencil and write to his mother.

Please tell parents to keep their daughters at home. Mothers with boys in the service have enough to worry about without this problem. — DISGUSTED.

Dear Disgusted: I agree. It's disgraceful for parents to allow a 17-year-old girl to be a camp follower — and when they write and ask if it's all right to let their daughters go visit boy friends in Army camps I tell them as strongly as I can, NO!!! It is not all right. More than this I can't do.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For a kitchen shower for the bride - to - be, paint a tube cake pan black. Put flowers in the hole in the center and use as a centerpiece. Use a checkered gingham cloth on table.

This is Crucible

It happens every spring. All over America, the soil is being plowed, harrowed and planted with new seed. On large farms and small, Crucible agricultural steels are doing a man-sized job of getting this work done. For nearly a century Crucible has been known to farm equipment manufacturers as a producer of the toughest, most wear resistant steel that can be made. At Midland works employes make sure we keep that reputation. From the time steel is melted until it is shaped into various agricultural products every effort is made to insure that it is of the quality and specifications ordered by the customer. Such individual concern is one reason why customers know they can count on Crucible.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: As past business manager of a 750 bed hospital, it was one of my duties to identify patients brought into the accident room.

When a small child was injured on his way to school or playing in a strange neighborhood, it sometimes took me hours to locate the parents.

When the child was unconscious it was a real problem.

Many times someone called an ambulance, or the driver of a car rushed the child to the hospital, without asking any questions.

My wife suggested and used this method for prompt identification of our children in the event of an accident . . .Heaven forbid!

She purchased some small cloth name tapes with our last name and street address printed on them.

A READER.

Sir, you have no idea how much we appreciate your wonderful hint.

A person wouldn't have to buy the name labels but could make their own.

Buy iron-on tape and write the name and address (even the phone number) on the tape with a laundry marker or indelible ball - point pen. Then just press on the name on the name label with a hot iron.

The best place to put the name label would be over the label in the garment as it would stick on better.

Again, a sincere "Thank you" from all of us who are vitally concerned with the safety of children.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A new unused toothbrush (kept just for this purpose) is excellent for cleaning sieves, graters, waffle grids, roaster racks, etc.

PAULINE FOX.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

DEAR HELOISE: Long has been my desire to ban the word "Housewife" (a wife to a house?).

We would all respond more happily and more eagerly to the title "Homemaker"....

H. L. R.

DEAR HELOISE: For those mothers who have four or five small children, and have a hard time keeping track of their teeth brushing:

I have found an easy solution: I purchased a different color toothbrush for each of our four children. Now when I get up, I put an amount of toothpaste on each brush and lay it in a little square tray on the wash basin.

As each child comes in to wash up, they know they should brush their teeth. Also, I know if the task has been done and no more toothpaste dripped all over the basin and floor.

MARY V.

Mary, this is a wonderful idea. All mothers should start the personal hygiene training of their children early so it will save us trouble and expense later on.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: When making hamburger patties (if you use a hinged wooden or metal hamburger press) instead of cutting wax paper pieces to fit the press, why not use those sandwich size plastic bags?

All you do is put some of the meat inside the bag, put it in the press and press away.

The pattie is already in the bag, and this makes for easy storing in the freezer.

D. K.

DEAR HELOISE: Empty adhesvie tape rolls can be used to wrap extra pieces of ribbon, rick - rack or bias tape on.

This will keep the contents clean and neat.

A piece glued or taped on the outside can help identify the item quicker.

EVELYN STIGERS.

DEAR HELOISE: When metal towel racks rust, wrap aluminum foil around the rack and tape it on. The rust will not come through.

MRS. JACK WRIGHT.

Martin Funeral Home

145 West Fifth Street Dial FU 5-3650

East Liverpool, Ohio

Dear Friends,

Because death usually occurs in a family only once each dozen years, it naturally creates an emotional crisis. A funeral director must be called — one in whom you have complete confidence. Well-meaning friends, neighbors, clergymen, doctors, should not presume to call a funeral director without consulting members of the family. To the next of kin belongs the sole right of selection of the funeral director.

Respectfully,

Richard C. Martin

Bringing Up A Family

By Dr. GARRY MYERS

Counselling By Pastors Questioned

In an article in this column some while ago, I noted the increasing services by pastors in counselling adults and youths. I stated that, from counselling well, many a pastor contribute greatly to the peace of mind and general mental health of those he counsels. I pointed out some pitfalls in this movement — danger that some pastors, lacking special training in counselling, might fail to recognize their limitations and that some pastors might not hold in strict confidence what a youth or adult reveals to him. To quote: "Imagine what could happen, and too often really does happen, when a pastor freely talks to others in his congregation about the mental problems or other very personal matters brought to him."

Dr. Garry Myers

The following letter came from the pastor of a certain urban church:

"Dear Dr. Myers:

"LAST NIGHT I read your article on Parent Problems entitled "Clergy of Today Counsel Their Flock." Upon completion of the reading I had mixed emotions. In general I was appreciative of your remarks concerning the clergy as counselors. I would wholeheartedly agree that the clergyman must know his own limitations and recognize when there is need to refer to more qualified individuals.

"I was, however, quite disturbed by your remark about the lack of confidentiality on the part of pastors. I think it is a serious mistake on your part to speak of doctors as being universally confidential because of an emphasis put on this in their training. You then refer to a similar tenet for the legal profession, and then to turn around and imply that too often pastors talk freely with others about marital problems and other personal matters brought to him.

"I know nothing of your background or training, but evidently you are not aware of the fact that a part of the training of most pastors is the injunction that they not talk about the marital and other personal problems of their parishioners with anyone. Indeed, one of the hardest parts of being a pastor is the terrific burden of problems which he is called upon to carry and wrestle with without being able to share them with others.

"I AM sorry indeed that your experience with pastors has led you to what I feel is an unfounded generalization, which unfortunately may have the opposite effect of what you apparently intended by your article."

My reply in part:

I don't doubt that you are an ideal pastor - counselor. You have raised a good point, however. I'm aware of special courses on counseling in some theological seminaries and of the injunction to students in some of them, "that they not talk about marital and other personal problems of their parishioners with anyone."

But I'm not aware that a part of the training of most pastors includes such training to an adequate degree. Being Protestant myself, I have gathered information over a good many years directly or from friends and acquaintances and through many letters from parents, in relation to confidentiality, which leads me to state that all too often confidences are not kept. Among the offenders are those pastors who have not had the training you have had.

YOU MAY be right in your implication that my warnings might weaken the faith of some parishioners in their pastor. More of them, obviously, read my column than do the few pastors who might profit from my warnings.

However, I strongly believe I was right in having said that pastors, as I know them in Protestant denominations, don't generally hold as strictly to confidences as physicians do.

Parade Music Comes From Radio Station

CLOVIS, N. M. (AP) — Boy Scout leaders in Clovis wanted to hold a parade to kick off the 1966 National Boy Scout Week. But they couldn't find a band to provide marching music.

Bob Gold, sales manager, Radio Station KCLV, came up with a suggestion: each Scout in the parade carry a transistor radio tuned to KCLV which would play march music.

An estimated 300 Boy and Cub Scouts from the Clovis area did this. Their seven-block-long parade was led by two Air Force men, veterans of Viet Nam, who were stationed at nearby Cannon Air Force Base.

Two Selected As Directors In Motor Club

Two new members have been named to the Board of Directors of the Columbiana County Motor Club.

They are C. W. Furney of Columbiana and William Maple of Kensington. They fill the unexpired terms of C. W. Arnold of Wellsville and S. A. Hart of Salineville, retiring members.

Arnold and Hart were elected honorary members of the board, having served for 35 years.

Mark Klingensmith, president, announced that various community reports covering activities of 1965 "revealed a gratifying increase and a sound financial operation."

He pointed out membership continued to increase last year, with the total membership now 12,651 as the result of 698 gain during '65, including 186 new members.

The board accepted a plaque issued by the American Automobile Association citing the organization here for membership achievement.

Went Wrong Way

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Anthony Baculy, divisional manager for Michigan for a New York encyclopedia publishing firm, received a well-traveled paycheck 25 days late. The envelope, mailed airmail special delivery from New York, showed evidence of an extensive journey through its various markings. One postmark was from Cheshire, England, and two seven-pence stamps and had been pasted on the letter.

Sew a piece of velveteen ribbon to the inside band of your girl's skirt. It will hold her blouse in place.

La Lanne Keeps TV In Shape

Morning television used to be garnished with at least one portly chef or well-upholstered hausfrau doing a cooking show. Within a few years such shows increased by 5 pounds per person our national weight average.

Hal Humphrey

Then followed the exercise shows on TV to demonstrate how easy it was to trim your waistline and get back in shape before all that pastry and pot-roast turned into a coronary. After this, as you know, came the reruns of all the series like "Our Miss Brooks" and "I Love Lucy," which we'd seen on nighttime TV but now are being asked to look at again so the networks can make a bigger profit each year.

SO FAR, HOWEVER, one exponent of the TV exercise show has managed to survive, and that is Jack La Lanne. Some of you might have wished it had been Debbie Drake, a lithe and shapely miss who wore a leotard like it never had been worn before, but Debbie seems to have disappeared with the cooking shows.

"I've outlived them all on TV because I believe in what I'm doing—it's a religion with me, and this is my church," announced La Lanne, his chest expanding another 2 inches as he conducted me on a tour of his private gymnasium in the La Lanne home high in the Hollywood hills.

"You should see the mail I get from around the country," he went on. "Some of it brings tears to my eyes. People are so grateful when they learn how good they can feel just by exercising and eating right."

HIS WIFE, Elaine La Lanne, injected the opinion that the aforementioned Miss Drake probably lost out in the TV physical fitness race because women viewers resented the way she could pour herself into that leotard. The only comment mine host added to Elaine's theory was, "She had a beautiful body."

Mickey Hargitay, ex-husband of Jayne Mansfield, tried at one time to please both male and female physical culture fans by stripping to the waist himself and leading a bevy of shapely young models in a series of exercises.

Either he didn't regard what he was doing in a religious enough fashion or the exercises were too intricate, since the show folded after 13 weeks.

LA LANNE has been at it for 15 years, has his show syndicated to nearly 90 TV station besides Channel 11 in Los Angeles and peddles a line of some 30 products bearing his name. These include records, books, exercise equipment and food supplements.

"I used to have a marvelous label showing a girl and me standing on top of a world globe, but the Federal Drug Administration made me take it off. I think they went a little too far. After all, it was just a trademark like the Smith Bros. have on their cough drops," said La Lanne.

Over a lunch of gooseneck squash with beef chunks and a chopped raw vegetable salad, TV's physical fitness king discussed the shape of the country as he sees it.

"The greatest tragedy was the loss of Jack Kennedy. He did more for our physical well-being than anyone. He looked the part himself, and then there was Jackie on those polo ponies. They were a great example, and we all became conscious of our bodies.

"NOW President Johnson's Physical Fitness Council is doing all right, but nobody follows through. There isn't that gung-ho feeling given to the program. Japan, for example, is really gung-ho, and everybody in Red China and Russia has two exercise breaks every day.

"It's starting to come to our country through the big corporations setting up gyms right on the job for their executives, but there's a long way to go yet. Gosh! If people would only realize how important it is to use their bodies. I have a motto—'Use or lose'—and nothing is truer," La Lanne almost shouted, as he waved his cane at me.

He was recovering from an operation on his knee ("an old football injury"), but the nice thing about having a backlog of TV tapes and film is that the show goes on, no matter what shape La Lanne is in.

Woman On Probation For Killing Her Child

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Nancy Dumford, 18, Cincinnati, has been placed on probation for five years for killing her child, but one of the conditions is that she receive psychiatric help.

Judge Gilbert Bettman sentenced Mrs. Dumford Tuesday in Hamilton County Common Pleas Court after she pleaded guilty to first degree manslaughter. Police said she used a pillow last Dec. 28 to stifle the cries of her two-months-old son Walter Paul Dumford.

Rep. Sweeney To Ask Primary Vote Recount

CLEVELAND (AP) — State Rep. Michael A. Sweeney says he will seek a recount in the 20th Congressional District after Tuesday's official count showed that he gained 24 votes on his opponent U. S. Rep. Michael A. Feighan.

The unofficial count the night of the election showed Feighan ahead 13,963 to 13,290, a difference of 473 votes. Tuesday's results showed the difference between the Democratic nominees cut to 449 votes.

Senate Action Due Today

Pennsylvania House OK's Bill Raising Rape Penalty

HARRISBURG (AP) — The House, meeting in a post-midnight session today, passed compromise legislation to raise the maximum penalty for rape from 15 years to life imprisonment.

There was no debate on the bill, which won unanimous approval, 202-0.

The Senate scheduled a session for 2 p.m. in order to act on House amendments. If the amendments are accepted, the bill would be sent to Gov. Scranton for his signature.

House Majority Leader Joshua Eilberg, D-Philadelphia, said it was virtually certain that the Senate would concur since the changes had been approved by the leaders of both chambers and by the governor's office.

The bill had been passed by the Republican - controlled Senate on April 21. The Democratic-controlled House ignored the measure, however, and on April 27, in another post-midnight session, passed its own bill.

The House bill generally provided stiffer penalties than those of the Senate bill, but Senate Republicans objected to some of the wording in the House bill.

Scranton urged the lawmakers to interrupt an election recess to pass compromise legislation. The House returned on Monday, took the Senate bill and wrote into it many of the provisions in the House bill, but modifying the wording to suit the Republicans.

As the Senate bill passed the House, it would provide a maximum life and minimum 15 years imprisonment for rapists who inflict serious bodily injury. In all other cases, the maximum would be 20 years.

The compromise amendments were added to the bill Tuesday. At that time, two Philadelphia Democrats tried to make changes which did not have priority, and their proposals were soundly defeated.

Rep. Harry R. J. Comer offered an amendment that would have provided the death penalty in the most serious cases of rape. After brief debate, the proposal was defeated 41-152.

Rep. Joseph J. Armstrong sought to have provisions inserted that would have prevented paroles for convicted rapists who had not served the minimum sentence and that would have added whipping to the penalties. The amendment fell by a vote of 18-174.

In the only other action, the House gave final legislative approval to a bill making the state college loan program eligible for federal support and sent the measure to the governor.

The vote was 202-1, with Rep. Guy A. Kistler, R-Cumberland, the lone dissenter. He protested that the bill had not received sufficient consideration.

Court Decision On Housing Stirs California's Campaign

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) —California's campaign for governor got a bristling new issue today, provided by the State Supreme Court's decision to overrule a state constitutional amendment that allowed racial discrimination in housing.

Candidates fired away with comments on the high court's 5 to 2 ruling that threw out the amendment giving landlords and homeowners the right to refuse to rent or sell to anyone —even on grounds of race or religion. The court held that the amendment violated the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution.

Two lawmakers demanded that Gov. Edmund G. Brown submit the issue to an election-year legislative session already packed with controversy.

Los Angeles Mayor Samuel W. Yorty, Brown's main foe in the June 7 Democratic primary, said the court "leaked" its decision to the governor several weeks ago.

"The philosophy and political persuasion of the justices is — playing an increasingly decisive role in their decisions," he said.

Ronald Reagan, campaigning for the Republican nomination for governor, called on Brown to start enforcing the Rumford Act, the antidiscrimination housing law that had been nullified by the amendment.

Brown, however, said "I don't think this will be a political issue." And George Christopher, another Republican candidate for governor and Regan's main opponent, said "further quarreling would not seem to be in California's best interests."

All the candidates were aware of the 1964 election in which the voters approved the amendment by more than a 2-1 margin. The vote, crossing party lines, amounted to a massive rebellion against the 1963 legislature's bitterly contested housing law.

Lima Firm Will Add 150 Workers In Plant

DWG headquarters in Detroit said Tuesday it is closing its manufacturing operation there and shifting it to its Lima unit. All Detroit employes are being offered jobs here, the company said.

A Junior Editors Quiz About BALL GAMES

QUESTION: Who first used balls to play games?

ANSWER: Some kind of ball probably figured in the games played by prehistoric children. These balls may have been smooth, round pebbles, probably used something as we use marbles today, or they might have been hollow gourds or coconuts, which would be fine or tossing back and fourth. In some of the oldest pictures we have on record, balls are shown being used as playthings. We know from the stories of the great Greek writer Homer that the Greeks were very fond of tossing balls back and forth to each other. He speaks of maidens doing this to increase the grace and suppleness of their figures. Our artist has illustrated this in his main picture. Such ancient balls were made of leather strips sewed together and filled with feathers, or in some cases with air.

The Romans were exceedingly fond of ball playing. During their days, team play had been introduced, with middle and rear lines marked out. During the 1400's and 1500's, in Europe, games were played which gradually turned into football, tennis and golf. Baseball developed from earlier English games, becoming by 1889 the game we know today.

For a good cake frosting that even the amateur cook can make, cream two tablespoons of soft butter and blend in one cup of confectioner's sugar and one tablespoon of cream. Add a few drops of flavoring and beat until smooth.
